Dylan and Zara Golden visit the ducks at Abbot Pond while their mother, Carol Tanski of Robandy Road, looks on. Although the ducks are still there, another Andover landmark - Rose Glen Dairy - is not. It closed recently. To read some Andover residents' memories of feeding the ducks and eating ice cream at the site, see reporter Lisa Boudreau's column on page 40.

Music teachers, learning specialists won't lose jobs

By Lisa Boudreau

Superintendent Mark McQuillan says the schools will have enough money to re-hire the four learning specialists who had been cut from next year's budget, and enough money to increase some part-time instrumental music teachers' time to cover the needs of the music program next year.

The committee agreed Tuesday night to Dr. McQuillan's suggestions pending state-aid funding. School administrators anticipate at least $249,000 in state aid for the 1993-'94 school year. Recent news from the Statehouse indicates that Andover could receive as much as $500,000, said Dr. McQuillan.

That means he will not recommend the committee implement additional user fees.

Pot-bellied pig produces pierce in PA student

By Lisa Boudreau

Problems with a pet pot-bellied pig at Phillips Academy were plentiful earlier this month. Charlie, an Asian- and European-mix pot-bellied pig that belongs to a faculty member, came close to celebrating his first birthday in pig prison.

OK, it wasn't that bad, but sources close to the pig say the PA porcine is producing problems.

Charlie's owner, Jennifer Johnston, the director of social functions at Phillips, spent a portion of her pet's birthday week talking

Mary Wesson helps kids in trouble

By Don Staruk

Mary Wesson has six daughters and nine grandchildren, but rather than spend all her time doting on her own family, she spends much of it working out problems with other people's children.

Ms. Wesson is the director of the town's Alternative Sentencing Program for juveniles with the police department. She works with police and the courts to find alternative sentencing, such as community service, for first-time teen-age criminal offenders.

"I put the program together in its infancy. I manage it and I supervise it," she said last week.

An example of the type of project completed by youths in the program was the repainting of the bandstand in The Park, which was vandalized with graffiti last summer. Several youths who admitted taking part in defacing that and other properties in town were given the opportunity to repaint those properties rather than face charges in court, according to Buzz Stapczynski, town manager.

"It falls into that whole concept of developing a positive feel for the town," Mr. Stapczynski said. He calls the program "wildly successful."

The program was started in 1981 at the request of then Lawrence District Court Judge Salvatore Basile and Andover Police Chief James Johnson.

"They had some Crime Watch money to put some programs in the

Bob Klie: quintessential volunteer

By Don Staruk

Webster's dictionary defines "quintessential" as the most perfect manifestation or embodiment of a quality thing, and "volunteer" as a person who enters or offers to enter into any service of his own free will. Quintessential volunteer defines Bob Klie, of 7 Temple Place.

In the 32 years since he and his wife, Dorothy, moved to Andover, Mr. Klie has helped found the town's

A Better Chance program, its American Field Service program and what is now the Merrimack Valley Hospice. He also has been involved with the Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry and the Fish program at West Parish Church, "a neighbor-helping-neighbor type of program."

And, at 80 years old, he helps build houses, for those who can't afford decent housing, with Habitat for Humanity, the group President Jimmy Carter made famous, and still Mr. Klie works with patients at Lawrence General Hospital.

Last week he was rehearsing for a show he and other volunteers were planning to perform for LGH patients.

"I'm going to be one of the dancing girls," he said with a chuckle.

Admiring signs of spring in the AVIS properties

By Marta Hornidge

Recently, mid-April, I asked five friends to name their favorite first sign of spring seen in the woodlands, meadows and marshes. After receiving a different answer from each of them, I decided to take my golden retriever, Taffy, for her daily walk in some of the AVIS (Andover Village Improvement Society) properties to check this matter out for myself.

Skunk cabbage was one of the choices and sure enough, there were scores of emerging plants in the swamps of the Stanley Reservation. In the last week of April, the yellow, pineapple-like flower bud is surrounded by a reddish color protecting shield. I have read that this plant generates enough heat by its respiration to melt snow surrounding it. Amazing!

One side of Bakers Meadow is noisy with the unmelodic, raspy cry of the red-winged blackbird, another friend's choice. The male bird is desperately establishing its territory. A blue-white, small butterfly is fluttering erratically near the Skug River. I have noticed this butterfly each spring but cannot name it. Can anyone help?

Another favorite spring sign is the fiddlehead fern, which I discovered along the Shawsheen River. They look like tightly curled dwarves ready to uncoil their fronds. Looking up and across the Shawsheen River, I noticed a lovely rosy hue, as though a light were shining through a stand of red maple trees and realized that I was seeing some of the first flowers of the year, red buds of the maples ready to burst into flower. When hunting for spring flowers on the ground, don't forget to look up for more surprises.

These spring signs are only a sampling. There are hundreds more marvelous happenings in this season of beginnings. Walk out on AVIS trails and see for yourself. Walking is once again comfortable in the reservations, thanks to the efforts of wardens and other volunteers who have worked ardently to clear branches and even whole trees from the trails devastated by the series of destructive winter storms. One warden reported cutting as many as 42 trees before his trails were clear.

New AVIS trustees

Spring news of the AVIS organization: Retiring trustees George Edmonds and Gail Ralston have been replaced by Nancy Jeton and Richard Hornidge Jr. The officers of AVIS include president Nat Smith, vice president Rachel Garcia, clerk Kay Frishman and treasurer Don Sagaser.

Ms. Garcia arranged an AVIS display for an A.T.T. celebration of Earth Day on April 22. Susan Walsh, Darcy Kirk, Jane Taylor, Barbara Cormier and Kay Frishman staffed the table during the day and evening.

Ms. Cormier will be in charge of the AVIS stand at the Andover Sidewalk Bazaar June 25-26.

1993 AVIS work plans

Plans for 1993 AVIS work are extensive and include renewing the Collins Reservation trail system, building new bridges on at least five properties, building new trails on a number of reservations, cutting trees leaning perilously over trails and chipping beaver brush piles. Any help is welcome.

Celebrating May Day

A group of Junior Garden Club members, under the direction of Susan Willis, will celebrate

May Day with a walk through three AVIS reservations, Indian Ridge, West Parish Meadow and Bakers Meadow. Richard Hornidge Jr. and Marta Hornidge will introduce the children to various signs of spring and to the geological and ecological importance of these areas, but mainly the leaders hope the children will have fun.

Hope to see you on the trails. Come before spring has sprung.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Conference is about sexual harassment

The legal remedies available to victims of employment discrimination, including those who have been subjected to sexual harassment on the job, will be explored at an all-day conference at the Massachusetts School of Law on Friday, April 30.

Featured panelists will include the Hon. Michael T. Duffy, chairman of the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination; Sally Greenberg, counsel to the Anti-Defamation League; and Ozell Hudson Jr., director of the Lawyers Committee for Civil Rights Under the Law.

Participants, including attorneys, law students, state and federal agency staff and others with an interest in employment discrimination issues, will be brought up to date on civil rights law, the Americans with Disabilities Act and legal requirements for proving and defending employment discrimination claims.

The conference will conclude with a mock trial of a sexual harassment case, presided over by Mr. Duffy.

"Those of us practicing in the field of employment discrimination have seen the legal and social issues grow increasingly complex during the last few years," said MSL professor Frederick Golder, who is chairing the conference.

"Victims of discrimination and harassment, employers who find themselves vulnerable to discrimination charges and practicing attorneys confronted with rapidly evolving state and federal case law, should have many of their questions answered during the program."

The conference is being co-sponsored by the Massachusetts School of Law and the Employment Law Center at the Merrimack Valley Legal Ser-

For more information, call 681-0800.

Adding flowers to Main Street

The Andover Center Association and Andover Garden Club are once again planning to liven up downtown with flower barrels. Businesses that wish to have a barrel placed in front of their business or contribute to the general fund should send $25 per barrel to the Andover Center Association Main Street Flower Project, P.O. Box 5001, Andover, Mass. 01810. The deadline is May 17.

Rep. Coon to visit with seniors

State Rep. Gary M. Coon, R-Andover, will hold office hours Tuesday, May 11, especially for senior citizens.

Rep. Coon will be at the Andover Senior Center from 9 to 11 a.m. to answer questions and discuss issues of concern to senior citizens of his district. No appointment is necessary.

For more information, call Rep. Coon's Boston office at (617) 722-2489.

Checking cholesterol

The Andover Board of Health will hold a cholesterol screening clinic Wednesday, May 12, from 9 a.m. to noon for Andover residents only. An appointment is necessary.

The simple fingerstick test for total cholesterol costs $5 and does not require fasting. The program includes dietary counseling by the public health nurse and referral to your private physician for follow-up care as needed.

For more information or an appointment, call the health department at 470-3800, Ext. 255.

IRS to receive new lights

Upgrade of the personnel lighting system at the Internal Revenue Service's Andover facility will be accomplished under the terms of a $74,850 contract recently awarded by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Elizabeth Contracting Inc., of Natick will begin the work in May and take five months to complete it.

Elizabeth Contracting submitted the lowest of 22 bids, which ranged as high as $239,585. The government estimated the work would cost $84,034.

The contract calls for the installation of low-glare, energy efficient lighting within 7,900 square feet of office space. Existing lighting fixtures, ceiling tiles and wiring will be removed and replaced at night to avoid interfering with normal IRS operations. Construction activities will be performed under the supervision of a Corps of Engineers' inspector to assure compliance with contract requirements.

Town taxes due Monday

Andover's tax bills for the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 1993 are due Monday, May 3. Taxes unpaid after that date are subject to interest charges of 14 percent. Town Hall offices at 36 Bartlet St. are open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Tax payments can be left in the white mailbox with the blue Town of Andover seal in front of Town Offices.

Anyone who didn't receive a tax bill, or who has any questions, can call 470-3800.

TOWNTALK

About the only member of the presidential family that local congressional aide Bob LaRochelle of Andover hasn't met is Socks the cat.

Mr. LaRochelle, who is aide to U.S. Congressman Marty Meehan, D-Lowell, met Bill Clinton last Sunday after the president spoke to members of a national newspaper association in Boston.

"He was a real ordinary guy, very relaxed and friendly," said Mr. LaRochelle, of 27 Launching Road.

The president greeted Rep. Meehan, who then introduced the two.

"I told him how my father (Ray LaRochelle) had kept his campaign headquarters in New Hampshire open even though pollsters were predicting an easy win for Tsongas in his own backyard. The president got a really big kick out of hearing that and asked me to thank my father for him," said Mr. LaRochelle.

Earlier this year he met First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton at Logan Airport while the two were waiting for flights.

Selectman Jerry Silverman, the principal of Georgetown High School for the past 18 years, announced recently that he will retire as principal following the 1993-'94 school year.

Mr. Silverman, of 56 Dufton Road, began his education career in New York, where he taught history at the junior high level from 1955 to 1960.

Michael Finegold of Andover, associate professor in the creative arts department at Northern Essex Community College, performed on the saxophone and directed a concert by the college's chorus and music ensemble as part of an Earth Day celebration Thursday, April 22, at the college.

He took a two-year hiatus from teaching during that time to serve in the U.S. Army.

In 1960 Mr. Silverman moved to Andover and taught at the junior high. When the junior high split into two schools he was assigned to West Junior High until 1971, when he became the assistant principal at Andover High School.

During his tenure in Andover, Mr. Silverman coached junior high and freshman baseball, football and some basketball.

In 1974 he became the principal at Georgetown High School, which has 460 students in grades seven through 12.

"I'm going to miss the daily contact and interaction with the kids. In a school this size you get to know all the kids," he said.

Mr. Silverman said he has no definite plans of what he will do when he's retired. His wife, Myrna Silverman, will continue to teach special education at South Elementary School in Andover after his retirement, he said.

Mr. Silverman's term on the Board of Selectmen will expire in March of 1995.

hill when they drove past a cloud of smoke about 1:30 a.m. on Sunday, April 25.

"My partner thought he saw a fire so we turned around and he was right," said Mr. Winters.

"Kevin went to see if the people inside were awake and I called the (fire department) dispatcher. He couldn't wake anyone so we both began yelling. He was at one door and I was at another," he said.

When no one answered, they forced their way into the home. The homeowners were awake by the time Mr. Winters and his partner reached the upstairs bedrooms. Smoke had begun filtering through the downstairs rooms, he said.

Mr. Winters' partner and the parents helped two of the children and a visiting friend out of the house, while he carried the couple's 4-year-old daughter, who was fast asleep. Everyone escaped without injury, said Mr. Winters.

By the time the family was safely across the street, the fire reached the home and began burning the rooms closest to the barn. Within a few minutes, the fire department arrived and extinguished the blaze. There was heavy damage to the barn, the kitchen area, and there was water and smoke damage to the rest of the house, according to Newton, N.H. fire officials.

Mr. Winters is a 1986 graduate of Andover High School. He and his wife, Laurie (Doucette) Winters, who is also from Andover and a Phillips Academy graduate, live on North Main Street.

Vena Coco, of 11 Standish Circle and owner of Vena Coco Collections of Andover, a women's clothing and accessories store at 93 Main St., is coordinating the fashions for the fashion show to benefit St. Mary's School in Danvers today, Thursday, at Jimmy's Allenhurst on Route 114.

We were talking with Ms. Coco about the show and discovered some interesting facts about this Andover businesswoman and designer. Born Lavinia, Ms. Coco is known by the diminutive, Vena. In Roman mythology Lavinia was the mother of Romulus and Remus, the founders of Rome. Ms. Coco studied both Latin and the Romance languages, and taught Italian after college.

As a teen-ager, she won a clothing design contest sponsored by Singer and sewed her own clothes.

"Making clothes was a creative outlet for me," she said.

During the bicentennial, Ms. Coco designed and made costumes for children. When the store where she is now located (it was Papa-gallo's) was for sale, she bought the store and returned to her love of design and fabrics. In 1985 she changed the name to Vena Coco's Collections. The boutique sells many of her own designs.

"Today's hurried, harried lifestyles need a fresh, fun-filled look," says Ms. Croft, the mother of three.

From her experience of 20 years as an interior designer, she has been able to make the 1950s meet the 1990s in a bold black, white and red 1950s rec room, complete with Coca Cola soda fountain and other authentic diner memorabilia.

"Fast food happens at home now," says Ms. Croft. "Inspired design should make us slow down, relax."

SNAP DECISIONS

You've only been looking for two weekends, and suddenly you find the house that looks perfect! You want to buy it, but you're reluctant to make an offer without having looked at more houses.

Whether you have a buyer's or seller's market, the best homes usually get snapped up quickly. Once you encounter a wonderful, well-priced home, you may have little time to think it over, and it is difficult to make such an enormous purchasing decision without at least sleeping on it. If you hesitate, you could lose the house to another buyer. If you go rushing forward, you'll probably spend at least some time nursing a case of "Buyer's Remorse". A professional Realtor can make your decision easier by making it as informed as possible. He or she can provide information about recent sales of other homes in the area and can answer any other questions you may have. You may also ask for a structural contingency, which will give you a chance to have an expert go over the major systems before the contract is finalized.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Century 21 Minuteman Realty. Please call us at 475-1243, or stop by our office at 2 Elm Square.

For the best choice in Equity Creditline rates, stop here...

Everywhere you look, banks are touting low Home Equity Creditline rates. But unlike those ordinary banks, Andover Bank offers a choice of three low rate programs. And as far as we know, only Andover Bank offers you low rates, a choice of three programs, and charges no closing costs and no annoying annual fees!

Apply for an Andover Bank Equity Creditline by June 30, 1993, and you can choose a program that's exactly right for you.

Choice 1: Andover PrimeNow – If your needs are immediate, look to our PrimeNow Equity Creditline. Pay only the prime rate until 6/30/94. Then your rate becomes only 1 1/2% above the prime.

Andover PrimeNow

Andover Prime+One

Choice 2: Andover Prime+One – For long-term thinkers, our Prime+One Equity Creditline guarantees that rate for the life of your loan – a rate so low it could save you thousands in interest.

Choice 3: Andover PrimeLife – For homeowners who have no first mortgage or who are looking to pay off their first mortgage, our PrimeLife Equity Creditline guarantees the prime rate for the entire life of the loan.

To learn more about our Equity Creditline limited time offer, mail this coupon or call our Consumer Loan Department without delay. With your choice of three low rate programs and no fees, we're sure you'll agree that at Andover Bank, you're the most important customer we'll ever have.

Prime Rate (as published in the Wall Street Journal) adjusted monthly on the last business day of the month, with an 18% lifetime cap. Credit advances are available for ten years. Current Andover Bank customers must qualify for an additional $20,000 to existing Creditline to qualify for these rate programs.

Merrimack Valley YMCA sets $70K goal

The Merrimack Valley YMCA recently kicked off its annual "Reach Out for Youth" campaign, the organization's yearly community-giving effort to raise funds for scholarships, financial aid and development of special youth programs.

With the 1993 goal set at $70,000, YMCA staff and volunteers expect to call on thousands of members and friends throughout Greater Lawrence for their support.

Among the YMCA's key community programs that benefit from the annual campaign are the ACCESS Financial Assistance Program, which provides financial assistance to YMCA members; the Community Services Department, serving hundreds of disadvantaged youngsters each year; and the Leadership Training Program for local high school students.

Last year, nearly 300 volunteers worked to raise a campaign total of $62,000. To date, more than 325 volunteers have signed up for this year's campaign, which concludes April 30. A "victory celebration" will be held in May to announce campaign results and honor all volunteers.

Based in Lawrence, the Merrimack Valley YMCA has operating branches in Lawrence and Andover, with residential and day camp facilities in New Hampshire.

YMCA branches serve more than 7,000 youth and adult members annually. Nearly 20,000 children participated in the organization's youth programs and camps in 1992.

Judge Ireland receives MSL's Thurgood Marshall Award

The Hon. Roderick L. Ireland, associate justice of the Massachusetts Appeals Court, received the fifth annual Thurgood Marshall Award from the Massachusetts School of Law on April 23, at the school's annual Law Day Dinner at the Andover Country Club.

The award has been given since 1989 to an individual who has made a significant contribution to the advancement of civil rights, either in the Commonwealth or in society as a whole.

"Judge Ireland has served the citizens of Massachusetts for more than 15 years with conviction and compassion," said Associate Dean Michael Coyne, in announcing the award. "He changed countless young lives for the better during his tenure in the juvenile justice system, by bringing a keen legal mind and a good heart into a court that is too often the scene of hopelessness and despair.

Judge Ireland was appointed to the Court of Appeals in June 1990, following a 13-year term as an associate justice of the Juvenile Court Department of the Massachusetts Trial Court.

A native of Springfield, he received his law degree from Columbia Law School and a post-doctoral degree from Harvard Law School. Judge Ireland began his career as an attorney with Neighborhood Legal Services in New York, then returned to Massachusetts to join the Harvard Center for Law and Education.

A former executive director of the Roxbury Defenders Committee, he has received the Boston Covenant Peace Prize for his work on behalf of racial justice and harmony; the Boston Bar Association's Haskel Cohn Award for Distinguished Judicial Service; and numerous other awards recognizing his community service and leadership.

Understanding

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

A DOCTOR BY ANOTHER NAME

There is a great deal of similarity between a chiropractor's educational requirements and those of a medical doctor. Both chiropractic and medical degrees require a minimum of six academic years of study. Those applying to chiropractic college must have completed at least two years of study (60 semester hours) of undergraduate credit toward a baccalaureate degree at an accredited college or university. They must then apply themselves to four years of academic study in a chiropractic college. After successfully completing six years of academic study, the degree of Doctor of Chiropractic (D.C.) may be conferred. Doctors of Chiropractic also receive clinical experience (internship) as part of their training. Those who wish to specialize may complete additional years of residency.

Our goal is to help you restore and maintain your good health for a lifetime. If you suffer with health problems, including headaches, stress, pain in your neck, back, or extremities, etc., please call DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, 475-5042 for an appointment. Our office is located at 15 Central Street.

P.S. The vast majority of a chiropractic doctor's courses in college are the same (anatomy, physiology, biochemistry, etc.) as those required of an M.D.

Your Dental HEALTH

ADVICE FOR MOTHERS-TO-BE

Pregnant women are advised to dismiss the popular "wisdom" that the developing fetus robs her teeth of calcium to the point where she will probably "lose one tooth per child." The truth of the matter more likely involves changing eating habits and cravings. When these foods and snacks are starchy or sugary in nature, they contribute to plaque buildup. If not flossed and brushed conscientiously, this layer of bacteria-laden film can lead to high acid levels which cause decay. It also helps for pregnant women to avail themselves of a nutritious diet as a means of maintaining good overall health. Another factor in pregnancy is hormonal changes that make gums more vulnerable to plaque. So-called "pregnancy gingivitis" is an inflammation of the gums that should be treated by the dentist.

Healthy foods are as important in a strong defense against tooth decay as are diligent brushing, flossing and professional cleaning. If it's been awhile since you've been to the dentist, make an appointment today. Your smile could depend on it. For children to grandparents, you'll find the dental care you need for a bright, happy smile at 296 Lowell Street, Rt. 133, with easy access off Rt. 93, 475-2431. We have office hours Mon & Thur 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6 and by appointment.

PS: By informing her dentist of her pregnancy, a female patient can be assured of appropriate care.

Dunkin' Donuts opens here

Frank Piro now owns three Dunkin' Donuts in Andover

By Don Staruk

A new Dunkin' Donuts franchise opened at 96 Main St. last week in the space formerly occupied by Reynolds and Markham interior designs, on the corner of Punchard Avenue. The new store is the third in Andover for franchise owner Frank Piro. He also owns the Dunkin' Donuts franchise on North Main Street in Shawsheen and a satellite store in the Rolling Green Mobil gasoline station on Lowell Street.

"We're trying to service the people that are heading in the other direction out of town that wouldn't be heading down to Shawsheen," Mr. Piro said.

The new store opened Sunday, April 18. Store hours are 5:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 5:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Mr. Piro hopes the store's extended hours, along with the Bertucci Menucci, Andover Video, and CVS/pharmacy being open at night, will encourage other Main Street businesses to remain open later.

The Main Street store will offer a full menu of the usual Dunkin' Donuts fare, including a variety of coffees, doughnuts and muffins, breakfast and lunch sandwiches, soups and Ocean Spray brand fruit juices.

Mr. Piro advertised grand opening specials in this week's Townsmen, and he hopes to have some "live appearances" by some well known cartoon characters in the near future.

Smoking is not allowed in the new store, which occupies about 800 square feet and has seating for eight persons.

There is parking in front of the store for about 20 cars until about 9 a.m., which is when the other stores in the area open. The store has 12 full- and part-time employees.

Other businesses in the building, which is owned by James Haddad, of Jenkins Road, are Academy Barber Shop, Geometrics Gallery and Framing and Sophistkids Inc.

NEWS DEADLINE: Deadline for news at the Townsmen is Monday at 5 p.m. Always include a name and phone number, in case there are questions.

Raytheon takes over microwave-oven firm in So. Dakota

Raytheon Company recently announced the acquisition of assets of Menumaster Inc. from a subsidiary of Litton Industries of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Menu-master, located in Sioux Falls, S.D., produces and markets commercial microwave ovens worldwide for the vending and food service industries.

Raytheon will incorporate Menu-master into Amana Refrigeration Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary located in Amana, Iowa. Amana's current product line includes Radarange® microwave ovens for the commercial food service market and Radarline® microwave systems, used primarily in the food processing industry.

Manufacturing will begin moving immediately from the Sioux Falls plant to Amana's Iowa plant.

"We have acquired this company to expand our product line and our distribution channels," said Robert L. Swam, Raytheon vice president and appliance group executive. "While we do not anticipate a significant immediate business impact, we expect that the strengthening of the product line will provide long-term strategic benefits."

Amana Refrigeration Inc., also markets a full line of major appliances and heating and air conditioning products. The company's products are sold throughout the United States and in more than 100 countries worldwide.

Raytheon, headquartered in Lexington and with offices in Andover, is a $9 billion diversified technology company with sales in four business segments: electronics, aircraft products, energy and environmental and major appliances.

SCHOOLS

Teacher Appreciation Day is sponsored by AFE and Chamber of Commerce

The Andover Fund for Education Inc. (AFE) will sponsor a Teacher Appreciation Day in May. In connection with the function, Townsmen readers, citizens and students are encouraged to send to the Townsmen a brief paragraph on how certain teachers have made a difference in their lives. The Townsmen will publish some of these responses.

The AFE will celebrate Teacher Appreciation Day in Old Town Hall on Main Street Thursday, May 13, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Its purpose will be to focus on and express appreciation for the job Andover teachers do. All teachers in the community are invited to be the AFE's guests.

Invitations will go out to town boards and committees and the public is invited.

The event is co-sponsored by the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

There will be light refreshments, speakers and a brief musical program.

3 Phillips, 1 AHS student among national hopefuls taking Math Olympiad test

By Lisa Boudreau

Kevin Foltz, a math standout at Andover High School, and three math aces from Phillips Academy are semifinalists vying for six positions to represent the United States later this year in an international math competition to be held in Turkey.

Mr. Foltz, a senior at AHS, and PA students Byron Calhoun of Virginia, Dan Roehl of Florida and Danai Kuangparichat of Missouri, were among the top 2,900 scorers in the American High School Math Examination, which was given to more than 360,000 students last February.

They and 2,900 students nationwide will take the United States Math Olympiad test today, Thursday. The students will have three-and-one-half hours to answer five questions.

If they are among the top 24 scorers on that test they will be invited to U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., for a three-week intensive math program.

The top six performers during that period will represent the United States in the international Math Olympiad competition in Turkey later this year.

Plan Before You Plant

If landscaping is on your spring list, now is the best time to formulate your plans. Here's just a few reasons why:

Spring is the perfect time to plant. The temperatures are warmer, but not too hot. There's plenty of water in the ground. And the sooner you plant the more time the roots have to strengthen and grow.

Another reason to plan now is that at this time of year Mahoney's selection is at it's biggest. You'll get the best selection to pick from; trees, shrubs, annuals, perennials, ground-cover etc. It's all here, in stock.

And if you have questions about your plans, bring them in with you. We have experts in every area; from Azaleas to Zinnias, who are here to help.

So plan to make the most of this spring. Visit Mahoney's soon.

Genetics Institute science award competition names finalists

By Lisa Boudreau

Earlier this month finalists were named in the fifth-grade Genetics Institute science award competition. Each school's fifth-grade science staff nominated three students who scored well on the fourth-grade science exam the previous year, and who demonstrated exceptional interest and aptitude in science.

The finalists from Bancroft were Kate Burke-Wallace, Aaron Litvin and Sally Olney; from Sanborn they were Sophie Lam, Emily McElfresh and Jeffrey Tompkins; from South they were Briana Fay, Juliet Grabowski and Eric Sointio; and from West Elementary they were Jenna Bernstein, Charles Gregory and Brian Pletcher.

Those 12 students were invited to the GI biotechnology lab for interviews as part of the final sequence in the process.

Some of the questions that the students were asked, said Peter Lasky, head of GI's human resources department, included: Why are they interested in science? Who are their role models? And what areas of science interest them the most?

"For most of the kids this was their very first interview. I was encouraged with their responses and their genuine interest in science," Mr. Lasky said.

The winners, who now have their name engraved on a plaque at their school, are Aaron Litvin, Emily McElfresh, Eric Sointio and Charles Gregory.

This is the second year the science award was given. It is also the second year of the GI-Andover public schools partnership, which is separate from the awards.

Two years ago, GI scientists, parent volunteers and teachers began before-school enrichment classes at Sanborn Elementary School.

This year the program is at West Elementary.

The GI team also did a six-week program at the Doherty Middle School.

Next year the morning enrichment program will be held at South Elementary.

Andover student wins Essex Aggie award

Matthew Davis of Andover, a senior honor student at Essex Agricultural High School, is the recipient of the 1993 Outstanding Vocational Agriculture Award designated by the faculty. The award was presented at the annual dinner sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education in Worcester.

The son of Wayne and Alberta Davis was cited for achievement in the field of natural resources, community and extracurricular activities.

His accomplishments include the State Agribusinessmen's Award, chairperson of both a committee to raise funds for the Special Olympics and of a safety program that promotes a variety of issues related to AIDS awareness health maintenance.

He has won numerous state and national awards during four years in the high school including the science fair, public speaking contests and natural resources excellence project for his overall knowledge in arboriculture skills. Outstanding Vocational Agriculture Award, Mass. Daughters of the American Revolution Scholarship, the Valley Tree Award and Essex Agricultural Society Scholarship. He has been honored for vocational and academic excellence, and since 1989 has operated his own tree and landscaping company.

Extracurricular activities include cross-country captain, class representative and athletic sportsmanship award. He has been an active member of the St. Augustine Church youth program, and during his senior year achieved the highest award in scouting, the Eagle Scout Award.

The recipient of three college scholarships at the April 14 graduation, he will attend the college program at Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in September, majoring in urban forestry.

"Professor" Rick Davis

Sanborn family night is tomorrow at 7

Sanborn School will sponsor a family night Friday, April 30, from 7 to 8 p.m. Rick Davis, professor of total useless skills, will demonstrate many valuable techniques such as how to bounce an apple, make your tongue disappear, make the best paper airplane, perform mouth sounds, make body parts disappear, arm stretching, and more.

Mr. Davis, a native of Dover, N.H., and a philosophy major, teaches useless skills in performances for schools, business groups, colleges and festivals. His Institute of Totally Useless Skills offers a course of instruction on videotape and confers a "Practitioner in Uselessness" degree (that's P.U. for short). It also issues membership cards and serves as an information exchange for those who wish to share their own useless skills.

Mr. Davis became a clown after college, spending four years with Ringling Brothers Circus and then went on to perform at Disney World, Radio City Music Hall and the White House.

Active West Elementary students are all A.C.E.S.

May is National Physical Education, Fitness and Sports Month, and the physical education staff at West Elementary School — Louise M. Rozzi, Daryl Arsenault, Arthur W. Iworsley and Jack Gleason — have registered the school in Project A.C.E.S. (American Children Exercise Simultaneously). This year's motto is "Fit to Achieve: Today, Tomorrow for a Lifetime."

The program promotes children's fitness across the United States. As many children as possible in the United States and other countries will participate in some form of physical activity for 15 minutes on Wednesday, May 5, at 10 a.m.

This is the fourth year West Elementary has participated. The entire school, consisting of approximately 900 students, the entire staff and any West School parent who would like to, will take a 15-minute walk on school grounds.

YMCA currently enrolling kindergarteners

The Andover/North Andover YMCA currently is enrolling kindergarten children for the 1993-'94 school year. The YMCA's kindergarten program is designed to supplement the Andover and North Andover public school systems.

Care is offered from 8 a.m. to noon or 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with extended care available from 7:30 to 8 a.m. and 3:30 to 6 p.m.

Transportation to and from public schools is included. A minimum of two days per week is required and tuition is based on the child's membership type. A $50 registration fee is required to hold a child's space for September.

The kindergarten program offers a variety of activities, including swimming, gym, cooking, circle time, snack, story time and outside play.

A low student/teacher ratio is another benefit of

AHS sophomore is raising money for Georgetown summer program

Andover High School sophomore Andrew Ewalt has been selected to attend the Junior Statesmen Summer School at Georgetown University this year. The intensive three-week program is limited to 240 high school students chosen on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and interest in politics and government.

Andrew Ewalt

Andrew needs to raise at least 70 percent of the school's $2,075 tuition and is looking for support from the community.

"Participation in the Georgetown program would benefit the community as well as myself," he said. "I will be able to share the leadership skills and political understanding that I will gain from this opportunity with others — at school, in extracurricular activities and in town."

College-level courses in American government and United States foreign policy, as well as congressional workshop debates, are part of the Georgetown program. In addition to these on-campus activities, students will meet and question members of Congress, Clinton administration officials and other national leaders at the Capitol, White House, Pentagon, State Department and in the chambers of the Supreme Court. The program's focus is to teach participants more about the dynamics of politics and to develop leadership qualities.

Andrew ranks second in his 298-member class with a grade point average of 3.98 on a scale of 4.00. He has earned high honors all terms while at Andover High School and has won awards in English, Spanish, history, science and overall academic excellence.

He is secretary-treasurer of the Andover High chapter of Junior State and participates in Math Team, Community Service, the Recycling Club and Project Teamwork, a cultural-awareness club. This year Andrew played basketball and coached a team of young children.

Readers who would like to help him get to Georgetown this summer should send their tax-deductible check, payable to the Junior Statesmen Foundation, with a memo identifying the check as raised by Andrew Ewalt, to Junior Statesmen Summer Programs Director, 650 Bair Island Road, Suite 201, Redwood City, Calif. 94063.

Andover will host, play in jazz festival for middle-school bands

The International Association of Jazz Educators (IAJE) will hold a jazz festival for middle school bands at West Elementary School on Thursday, May 6. The first of six groups to perform before adjudicators and an audience will start at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Bands from Maynard, Concord, Newburyport, Wellesley, Weston and Andover will present their best music, including improvisator solos in ensemble performance. Students will receive a critique from judges in a separate room following their performances.

An awards ceremony will follow the performances at approximately 5:30 p.m. Allan Minkinen, Northeast District IAJE chairman, will host the festi-ties and direct the Andover Middle School jazz band.

A donation of $3 is asked for admission.

Merchants Association of Andover Center offers a $500 shopping spree gift certificate

Andona's Clown Town is set for Saturday, May 15

In a show of support to the fund-raising efforts of The Andona Society Inc., the Merchants Association of Andover Center has offered a $500 shopping spree gift certificate to be raffled as part of Andona's Clown Town fund-raising activities for the youth of Andover. Clown Town will be held again on the third Saturday in May, on the 15th, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Tickets for the Andover Center Shopping Spree raffle can be obtained at Clown Town near the bandstand or at participating stores. The winner will be able to use the $500 gift certificate in whole or part at any of the participating stores in Andover Center. The drawing will be held Saturday, May 22.

Andona will also raffle the opportunity for some girl or boy to become a Boston Celtics ball person. The Andona Society will offer the opportunity for a child between the ages of 8 to 15 years old to be a boy ball or ball girl at a 1993-'94 Boston Celtics' home game to be mutually arranged between the Boston Celtics' office and the winner's family. This lucky youth will chase balls, make sure the floor is kept clear and go home wearing a new Celtics' jacket after meeting all the players. Tickets on the parquet will be provided for the parents.

Raffle tickets for the $500 Shopping Spree and the Boston Celtics will be sold at $1 each or six for $5 and can be purchased at the bandstand. The drawing for the Celtics' ball boy/ball girl opportunity will be held at Clown Town on Saturday, May 15, at 3:30 p.m. at the bandstand.

Clown Town is an annual rite of spring provided by the Andona Society Inc. since 1956. Clown Town offers families a day of fun, where children can play games, go on amusement rides, have their faces painted and enjoy food.

Proceeds go towards Andona's fund-raising efforts to support local community youth organizations, as well as scholarships and camperships for Andover youth.

Andover Faerie Festival: a funky, playful goodbye to winter

The Murphy Family, Celtic Performers, debut as the Celtic Kids at the fifth annual Faerie Festival Sunday, May 2, at Betsy Williams/the Proper Season at 68 Park St. They will join storytellers, artists, other musicians and actors at this two-day festival to mark the end of winter and welcome the beginning of new life.

The festival begins Saturday at 10 a.m. with a ringing of bells to welcome the fairies and a perspective on fairy lore. Sunday's festivities begin at noon. The celebrating ends at 4 p.m. Saturday and at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Here's what's happening

- Fairy house construction taught by Andover artist Fran McCormack. Learn how to make fairy furniture, fairy baskets and fairy paper;

- Folk and fairy tales by storytellers Susan Lenoe of Andover and Papa Joe (Gaudet) of Fremont, N.H., with son, Joseph, and nephew, Buddy Gaudet.

- Folksinging by Judy Camber and The Madrigal Singers from Belmont High School;

- A Medieval Mummer's Play by Friends of Robin of Sherwood;

- Irish music by the award-winning Celtic Kids (Murphy Family) of Wilmington on Sunday at noon and 1:30 p.m. They play Irish music on the Irish fiddle, flute and tin whistle. V. David Rodger says "We first heard them play at the Lowell Folk Festival. They are terrific. Andover is in for a real treat."

- Free fairy punch, wee cakes and fairy dust;

- Lunch and dessert prepared and served by Immigrant City Archives;

- A Fairy Market, featuring a few chosen fairy craftspeople;

- Face painting by parents from Fidelity

Crafts in The Park is slated for next weekend

The 16th annual Crafts in The Park, sponsored by the American Field Service and the DCS, will be held Saturday, May 8, (rain date, Sunday, May 9) from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in The Park at the corner of Chestnut and Bartlet streets.

More than 130 craftspeople and artisans from all over New England, including many from Andover and North Andover, will exhibit and sell their work.

Crafts in The Park is the major annual fund-raising event for the Andover chapter of AFS Intercultural Programs. The volunteer organization is dedicated to the idea of furthering world peace and cross-cultural understanding through student and adult exchanges around the world. Proceeds help provide full or partial scholarships to bring AFS students from overseas and send Andover students abroad.

WEDDINGS & ENGAGEMENTS

Gianetti-Campbell

Jane Campbell and Stephen Gianetti were married June 13, 1992, in Our Lady of the Cape Church in Brewster. The ceremony was performed by Fr. James Nunes.

Mary Dunbar of Andover and Kathy Sanford of Rhode Island, sisters of the bride, were matrons of honor.

Bridesmaids were Donna Malley of Malden, Cheryl Johnson of Arlington and Pam Simms of Franklin, the groom's sister.

Fred Schaaf and Norman Staples, both of Woburn, were bestmen. The bride's brothers, Bob Campbell of Bradford and John Campbell of Haverhill, were ushers.

Patrick Sanford, the bride's godson, was ring bearer. Collin Dunbar and Jonathan Sanford were train bearers.

The bride wore a gown in off-white shantung with an off-the-shoulder neckline styled with seed pearls and scalloped alencon lace. The full skirt flowing from the fitted Basque waistline had a cathedral train appliqued with alencon lace. Her veil was handcrafted by Peg Campbell of alencon lace. She carried tulips, stephanotis and ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Collin and Ann Campbell of East Dennis, formerly of Andover. She graduated from UMass with a bachelor of science degree in business and is in the MBA program at Boston College. She is an accountant with ITT-New England.

Her husband is the son of Albert and Catherine Gianetti of Franklin. He graduated from Fitchburg State College with a bachelor of science in computer science and is a software engineer with Computer Vision.

Audier-Marquis

Melissa Wiles Marquis and Philip Andrew Audier were married Aug. 29, 1992, in West Parish Church. Rev. Joseph LaDu performed the ceremony.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress.

Her sister, Amy Marquis of Englewood, N.J., was maid of honor. Arlene Viens of Methuen, Karen Gray of Andover and Kristen Duffy of Brighton were bridesmaids.

Matthew Audier of Los Angeles, Calif., was his brother's best man. The ushers were Robert Mathias of Scarsdale, N.Y., Gary Ouellette of Brunswick, Maine, and Keith Merit of Raynham. Also taking part in the ceremony were the bride's brother, Rev. Paul Tenaglia of Sante Fe, N.M., Kyle Schaller of Whately and Kate Gerlough of New York, N.Y.

Following a reception at the Bradford House, the couple left for a trip to Italy and Switzerland.

Melissa and Philip Audier

She is a house manager for Human Service Options.

Her husband is the son of Linda Audier of Needham and Mark Audier of Somerville. He is a graduate of Principia High School in St. Louis, Mo., and Bentley College in Waltham. He is an accountant with Massachusetts Health Research Institute in Boston.

The couple live in Malden.

Page-Kellan

Renee Kellan and Thomas J. Page III were married in a Nuptial Mass at St. Ignatius Church in Chestnut Hill. The Rev. Joseph Marchese, a chaplain at Boston College, celebrated the Mass, assisted by the Rev. Carl Pieber, C.M., of Catholic University of America.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kellan of North Andover. She is account director in the West Coast office of Carl Byoir and Associates, an international public relations firm. Her father is an ophthalmologist.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Page Jr. of Peabody. He is a vice president/associate creative director of DDB Needham in Los Angeles. His father, now retired, was district manager for General Foods.

Following a trip to Europe, the couple will live in Beverly Hills.

Sarbieski-Flaherty

Julie Ann Flaherty and Robert Allen Sarbieski were married in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Arthur Johnson at St. Joseph's Church.

Sharon Dostie was matron of honor. Lisa Kendra, Pamela Shepard, Jean Mutchler and Kerry Sarbieski were bridesmaids. Ashley and Charlotte MacMillan were flower girls.

Jeff Sarbieski was best man. Tim Brown, Jim Brown, Peter Sarbieski and Cliff Springer were ushers. Jonathan Shepard and Patrick Sarbieski were ring bearers.

Following a reception at Castleton in Windham, N.H., the couple left for Hawaii.

The bride is the daughter of James Flaherty of Hollis, N.H., and Nancy Flaherty of Manchester. She is a graduate of Andover High School and Castle Junior College and attends Merrimack College. She is the bookkeeper for Catalano Insurance Agency in Methuen.

Her husband is the son of Bernard and Vivian Sarbieski of Lansing, Ill. He is a graduate of Thornton Fractional

Julie and Robert A. Sarbieski

South High School and the Illinois Institute of Technology and Clemson University. He is an engineer with AT&T in North Andover.

The couple own a home in Plaistow, N.H.

Chorale celebrates spring

The Greater Merrimack Valley Chorale will present "A Spring Celebration of Song" on Saturday, May 8, at 8 p.m. at the First Calvary Baptist Church, corner of Massachusetts Avenue and Chickering Road (Route 125), North Andover.

The concert will feature Bach's Cantata #4, Haydn's Non Nobis

Domine, Randall Thompson's Alleluia and songs by Aaron Copland and Cecil Effinger. Tickets are $5 for seniors and students and $7 for general admission and are available at the door or by calling 688-2816.

Sheep Shearing Festival is May 16

Denise McManus, chairwoman of the Museum of American Textile History Guild of Volunteers, displays a sewing basket that will be one of the raffle prizes at the museum's annual Sheep Shearing Festival Sunday, May 16. Hampshire Fabrics of Lawrence has donated two $50 gift certificates for the guild-sponsored raffle. The festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the North Andover Common.

Joan and Philip Hymanson

It's white asparagus time again at the Andover Inn

White asparagus, the exotic vegetable with an intriguing mystique, once again will stalk New England in the dining room of the Andover Inn, when the inn hosts the second annual White Asparagus Festival May 10 through June 24.

Andover Innkeeper Henry Broekhoff has fashioned the festival in keeping with the short, spring harvesting season of white asparagus in Europe, where this culinary treat is known as "White Gold."

White asparagus will be flown in fresh from Holland and showcased in lunch and dinner menus created by the inn's Executive Chef Thomas Arbuckle. Festival guests can enjoy the distinctive flavor of fresh white asparagus at the Andover Inn, located on the campus of Phillips Academy.

In celebration of the White Asparagus Festival, a special overnight package will be offered. The package includes deluxe guest room, festival dinner for two and breakfast for two. The price is $145, including tax and gratuities, and is based on availability. For information and reservations, call 475-5903.

Hymanson-McNamara wedding

Joan Maureen McNamara and Philip Mark Hymanson were married Sept. 25, 1992, at St. Augustine Church. Father Arthur D. Johnson performed the ceremony.

Jane McNamara was her sister's maid of honor. Richard Beauchamp of Lynn was the best man. Samantha Dexter, daughter of the groom, and Kirsten Stuke, the bride's niece, were flower girls. Patrick McNamara handled the usher duties.

The bride wore a princess-style white silk gown with a scalloped portrait collar and scalloped cathedral length train. Her bouquet consisted of white roses, orchids, freesia and baby's breath.

Following a reception at the Venetian Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston, the couple left for Charleston and Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The bride is the daughter of Paul and Alice McNamara of 6 Downing St.

Her husband is the son of Edward and Elaine Hymanson of Lynnfield.

The couple live in Lynnfield.

Film producer to speak at 'Tribute to Women' May 12

Elsa Rassbach, producer of a forthcoming film about Merrimack Valley textile mills and the women who worked in them, will speak at the Tribute to Women in Industry Luncheon.

Ms. Rassbach, an award-winning filmmaker, is currently at work on Lost Eden, a feature-length film which is planned for distribution in cinemas and prime-time television.

Filming will begin in July at the Lowell National Historic Park. Several sites with authentic 1840's backgrounds in North Andover, Andover and Lawrence are under consideration.

"We are considering a number of locations (in Greater Lawrence)," said Ms.

Rassbach. "The film is set in the 1840s and shows how these young women helped launch the first industrial labor movement in America and sparked one of the first grassroots working women's movements."

The 10th annual TWIN luncheon on May 12 at the Andover Country Club will honor 20 area women who have been chosen for their achievements by Merrimack Valley businesses and industry.

Dahlia Diaz, local radio and television personality with Boston's Channel 27, will be mistress of ceremonies at the event, sponsored by the Greater Lawrence YWCA.

Ms. Rassbach is president and founder of Made in

Elsa Rassbach

U.S.A. Productions Inc., a non-profit organization based in New York City. Before starting her own company to produce films on American labor and social history, she worked for WGBH-TV on the team that created the Nova series.

Her most recent production is The Killing Floor, the story of a black sharecropper who leaves the rural south to become a Chicago laborer. The award-winning film was broadcast on PBS's "American Playhouse" and shown in theaters internationally. It is the only film funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities to be invited to the international Cannes Film Festival.

TWIN luncheon reservations may be made until Friday, May 7, by calling the Lawrence YWCA.

Andona reunion is Sunday, May 2, at Old Town Hall

The Andona Society will sponsor a reunion for all members who have contributed their services for the past 40 years to the youth of Andover.

The reunion is being held Sunday, May 2, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Old Town Hall, 20 Main St., to celebrate Andona's 40th anniversary. All past and present members of Andona are invited.

The Andona Society was founded in March 1952 as a manifestation of the desire of its charter members: Mesdames David Burns, Suzanne Hill, Guy B. Howe Jr., Warren Lewis, and

L. Gleyenn Yeaton Jr. to create a charitable organization in Andover. The name Andona was chosen as a combination of the name Andover with the Latin verb "to give." Mrs. Guy B. Howe Jr. was the first president.

Beth Kline, chairwoman for the anniversary celebration, hopes many members who represent generations of families will attend the event. Past members from the 1950s, '60s and '70s are asked to contact Ms. Kline at 105 Woburn St. or call 470-2562 to be placed on a complimentary invitation list.

Cabaret '93 goes On the Road

A cast of more than 50 men, women and young people from St. Robert Bellarmine Parish will present Cabaret '93 on the Road Again, a potpourri of the best of Broadway musicals and American music, on Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1, at 7:30 p.m. on the stage of the Franciscan Formation Center.

The cast, under the direction of Dick Castignoli, the parish's folk group director, will be joined by two members of the Singing Priests, Rev. Richard Mehm, associate pastor at St. Mary Star of the Sea Parish in Beverly and former associate pastor of St. Rita's in Haverhill, and the Rev. Jon C. Martin, pastor of St. Joseph Parish in Amesbury. Former Broadway star Paul Floyd of Lynn (Music Man) will perform his famous skit on

"What Kind of Fool am I?"

Pastor Rev. Arthur Driscoll will join the cast in a "Surprise Skit" and several "singing nuns" will present a segment based on the hit segment from Sister Act, singing "My God" and "Hail Holy Queen."

A Broadway collage includes dance routines to such famous melodies as "Forty-Second Street," while a blues segment will take the audience to New Orleans and "On the Road Again" to the Old West with special stops in between, winding up with a patriotic tribute to the "Grand Old Flag."

Musical accompaniment will be provided by a trio of musicians headed by pianist Cynthia Costello.

Choreography is by Rose Fazio of Andover and costumes and refreshments are by Nancy Castignoli.

Tickets are $10 for adults; $8 for senior citizens and children under 12. Proceeds will benefit the parish's organ fund.

For reservations in the upper Merrimack Valley, call 475-2771 or 851-3069; in the lower valley area, call 388-2552. Limited tickets will be available at the door on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Garden club annual meeting plans floral luncheon

The annual meeting of the Andover Garden Club will be held on Tuesday, May 4, at 12:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Church on Locke Street.

Reservations are required for the luncheon meeting.

The program for the May meeting is titled "Food in Bloom." Andover Garden Club's Maria Moskos will coordinate a spring floral luncheon.

Food prepared by a committee of club members under Ms. Moskos' direction will be decorated and presented with fresh spring flowers in a demonstration prior to the luncheon.

Ms. Moskos has an avid interest in food and flowers and their artistic presentation. Her menus and recipes will be used for the luncheon.

She grew up in a catering family in Rhode Island which gave her the stimulus and exposure to fine cooking presented in a unique manner.

While a nursing student at Boston College, she began teaching children at the Newton Community Center how to cook.

She began catering in 1969 in Andover on an intermittent basis and did so for 11 years.

Under the direction of the late Elaine Kent, she helped establish the gourmet cooking program at the Andover/North Andover YMCA and later taught cooking classes for adults and children for the town of Andover.

Since January 1990 she has written the food column for Andover Townsman.

For members planning to attend the business portion of the meeting only, the scheduled time is 1:45 p.m.

You already know
it's the best time to buy a home.
Now learn how.

Everyone knows it's time to buy, now you can learn how to do it. On May 18th, Fleet Bank is sponsoring a free Home Buyer's Seminar. We'll explain how today's low rate environment can help you, how to shop in a "Buyer's Market" and more. And, of course, our bankers and mortgage specialists will be on hand to discuss mortgage types, the steps involved in getting one, and to answer any personal questions you may have.
The seminar starts at 7:00 PM and space is limited so please call (508) 659-7070 to attend.

BallardVale United celebrates its accessibility campaign Sunday

Ballard Vale United Church is conducting its "Accessibility-for-All Campaign" this week with a celebration Sunday, May 2. Each member is being contacted. Residents are being visited by home visitors under the leadership of Phil Duffy. Out-of-area members and college students are receiving letters.

Sunday School children have received coin banks for their own "Buy-a-Brick" project. The bricks are priced at 60 cents and for each multiple the child will write his/her name on the brick (mortar side). They have also made posters showing the need for accessibility for those physically challenged. Their "prize" was a bright yellow badge of the 25th anniversary logo.

The initial capital gifts part of the campaign has reached the goal of more than half the project budget of $160,000. Renovations will include a three-level elevator, new side entrance, two handicapped-access restrooms, lower-level ramp and wider lower-level entrance door. Also under consideration is a chair-lift for choir loft access and some pew cushions for those who find sitting difficult.

Bids will go out after May 2. A congregational meeting to accept bids and proceed with building will be held June 6.

Special musical program at Temple Emanuel Friday night

The Adult Choir of Temple Emanuel, under the direction of Cantor Donn Rosensweig, will present a musical program titled "Shirei Megillot," or "Songs of the Megillot," Friday, April 30, at 8:15 p.m. The megillot refer to five special books of the Hebrew Bible: The Books of Ruth, Esther, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes and the Song of Songs. The program, which sets the traditional texts to contemporary musical modes, includes excerpts from each book.

Greek community observing Ahepa Family Day May 2

Lawrence Chapter #47 Order of Ahepa will join 1,000 chapters across the country in observing Ahepa Family Day on Sunday, May 2. The chapter will recognize the contributions of key people within the Greater Lawrence Greek community.

The theme is "Maintain the values and Spirit of your Hellenic Heritage." Members will attend Divine Liturgy at 10 a.m. at Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, 71 Chandler Road. The Rev. Dr. George A. Karahalios will conduct a memorial service.

Shabbat services to be held May 7, 21

Congregation Tifereth Israel of Andover will hold its May special Friday night Shabbat services May 7 and 21 at 7:30 p.m. The students of the religious school will lead the May 7 service. Both services will be held at the hall, 34 Central St.

Rabbi Barbara Penzner will lead the congregation through a family-oriented service with special emphasis on the children.

For more information on the Conservative congregation's other activities, call 475-9881.

Children sponsor 'Mini-Walk for Hunger' Sunday morning

Looking for a way to involve children in the campaign against hunger without going to Boston and walking 20 miles? The children of West Parish Church will hold their eighth annual Mini-Walk for Hunger in the church's cemetery Sunday, May 2, from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Children ages 3 to 14 are invited to participate by meeting at the large arch at the corner of Lowell Street and Reservation Road, which marks the entrance to the cemetery. A marked half-mile course will be supervised by adults and water and fruit juice will be provided.

Children may pick up a sponsor sheet at the church office on Friday, at the arch on Sunday or bring a list of people willing to pledge. Marshals will verify the distances walked. All proceeds will be forwarded to the Greater Boston Walk for Hunger.

The walk will be held rain or shine.

Bob Klie: the quintessential volunteer

In June, Mr. Klie will be honored by the Exchange Club of Lawrence with its Book of Golden Deeds Award for his volunteer efforts over so many years.

Why does someone spend so much of his time doing for others?

"There's a tremendous amount of self-satisfaction. I enjoy working with people. I like feeling like I'm contributing something to the society around me," Mr. Klie said. "I love to organize things. And I've lost most of my modesty about it."

The Klies are both originally from Weehawken, N.J., and moved here when he took a job with Bell Laboratories, now AT&T Bell Labs, in 1961. He was an electrical engineer working with coaxial cable for long-distance transmission. He and his wife bought a house on Rolling Ridge Road where they lived until 1972 when they moved to Washington Park apartments.

"Then I retired and we came here. We needed a little more space if I was going to be around all day," he said. "So I've been retired for 15 years and it doesn't seem possible."

A Better Chance

Mr. Klie helped start Andover's A Better Chance program, which offers students of color from the inner city an opportunity for a better education. That was 1967, but ABC was a while in the works.

In 1965-'66, Tom Mikula, a math teacher at Phillips Academy, spent a sabbatical working at an African American high school in the south. He was impressed with the needs of those students for better educational opportunities, and subsequently started the first public school ABC program in Hanover, N.H., working with Dartmouth College. He then came back here, to a men's group at West Parish Church of which Mr. Klie was a member, and suggested starting such a program in Andover.

"That was in 1966," Mr. Klie said. "Everything I have done started through the church in one way or another."

Members of the men's group studied it for a while but decided it was too big a project for them.

They held a community meeting with other parishes, followed by a town-wide meeting at Memorial Hall Library, still in 1966. They received good backing from the community and decided to go ahead with the program. But the School Committee rejected the proposal unless the group could get the approval of town meeting.

"Which we did in 1967," Mr. Klie said.

He had to stand up to make the proposal at Town Meeting.

"I had butterflies in my stomach like I never had before or since."

A long emotional discussion ended with a call for a secret ballot, which carried by more of a margin than 4-1.

"My butterflies disappeared when the vote was announced and the audience exploded" with applause, he said.

"As a personal experience, it was one of the most dramatic things in my life."

Mr. Klie was the chairman of the Andover Committee for ABC, which decided to start the program that fall, leaving just six months to raise money, buy a house, establish a dormitory and obtain all the necessary equipment. They found a house on Summer Street but met resistance from neighbors and decided against fighting for it.

Then Andover resident Beverly Darling approached them with a house she had available at 134 Main St., which they bought and the program was under way. The ABC dormitory still occupies that same house today.

Mr. Klie stepped down from the ABC board after a year and a half because of job commitments, but he takes pride in what he accomplished.

"It was a big job running the organization," he said. (Dorothy) "is still deeply involved with ABC. I'm not. I've gone on to other things."

First AFS student

The Klies had an AFS student stay with them in New Jersey before they moved to Andover. They liked the program and proposed starting one in Andover shortly after they moved here.

The local American Field Service program gives students a chance to spend a year studying abroad, sending Andover students elsewhere and bringing foreign students here. Students who come here stay with local families and attend Andover High School.

The Klies' proposal was knocked down at first, but within a year they were approached and asked to give the program another try. They organized it with friends they met through a newcomers group that was active in town at the time. Herb and Janet Lake, who no longer live in town, had the first AFS student, a boy from Norway, in 1963. He graduated from AHS in 1964.

Mr. Klie was director of the Andover AFS program, but had to resign when he and his wife were asked to take a student themselves the next year.

Hospice

Mr. Klie also helped start the hospice program that has evolved into what is now the Merrimack Valley Hospice, with offices located on Union Street in Andover.

"I was deeply involved in creating this program," Mr. Klie said.

West Parish Church had been trying to start a hospice for some time when Mr. Klie happened to run into Father James Dolan at Lawrence General Hospital in about 1979 or 1980 who said he was on his way to a hospice meeting. Mr. Klie asked if he could go along and did. As the priest had explained to him, the group was meeting and doing a lot of talking, but was not making any progress. Mr. Klie took charge of a committee of West Parish Church members and others and began to organize a hospice program. Bon Secours Hospital, now Holy Family Hospital, and Lawrence General Hospital both supported the plan, but did not get directly involved.

Quintessential volunteer Bob Klie pauses for a moment on the porch of his Temple Place house. He has been involved in many, many volunteer projects in Andover over the years.

"We finally established a hospice program which involved only home care and it involved only volunteers."

The West Parish hospice had only one paid employee, an executive director. Mr. Klie was again, of course, president of the board of directors.

Then Medicare funding became an issue because receiving it required providing services that were beyond what the group of volunteers could do. Meanwhile, the Visiting Nurse Association had also developed a hospice program and also was faced with increasing its services to receive Medicare funds. Both groups realized that they would have to compete with each other if they were to expand, and instead merged. VNA eventually took over running the hospice and continues doing so today.

"They picked up our volunteer efforts," Mr. Klie said.

Habitat for Humanity

Mr. Klie has been involved with the Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry and the Fish program at West Parish Church, "a neighbor-helping-neighbor type of program." But most recently he has been working with Habitat for Humanity, helping build homes for those who otherwise could not afford decent housing.

"Habitat got started without my involvement at all," Mr. Klie said.

But he did get West Parish Church involved and a group of 25 church members are regularly involved in area Habitat projects. His initiation to the program was with the construction of four duplex homes on Railroad Street in Lawrence. He worked one day on that project and was hooked.

"Habitat is the most addictive project I know," Mr. Klie said. "People like working with hammers and nails and saws."

People from all walks of life take part. In fact, Habitat will dedicate its most recently-completed housing, at 10 and 12 Mason St. in Lawrence, on May 15. These two houses are the 13th and 14th houses Habitat has built in Lawrence.

"It's a wonderful networking organization."

Mr. Klie doesn't do much of the hands-on work anymore, but he is the volunteer coordinator and, once again, a member of the board of directors.

"I think I'm the oldest man around (Habitat that is), but I'm not sure."

The "professional" work on the homes, such as building the foundation or installing the plumbing and electrical work, is done during the week. The volunteer work takes place mostly on weekends.

"That's my job, to see that we have work groups there every Saturday," Mr. Klie said.

Keeper of the keys

Mr. Klie is the "keeper of the keys" and "snow czar" for the condominium-type complex Temple Place is today. He was also president of the condo association for a couple of years.

The structures are about 150 years old, he thinks, and were built as "cold water flats," for mill workers.

"These were the slums of Andover," he says of the now neatly-kept cluster of white wooden buildings off High Street.

Mr. Klie doesn't fish or have any other hobbies that take up his time, although he used to play tennis. He and his wife like to travel, and he likes to say they met "on a cruise together." They had actually met once before, but "nothing happened." Then one day they met again on the 42nd Street Ferry in New York, each on their way to work. They've been married 55 years.

Now when they travel it is either visiting people they've met through their AFS connections, or to visit their children, who include Jack, a physician specializing in internal medicine and cardiology in Providence, R.I.; Barbara, a computer specialist in the speech department at Crotchet Mountain Rehabilitation Center in New Hampshire; Dorothy, supervisor of a residence for retarded adults in Belfast, Maine, and Virginia, who teaches English as a second language in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Mr. Klie is proud of his children and the fields of service they've chosen, just as he is of his own work.

"I'm really very proud of what I do," he said. "I'm proudest of my work in AFS, ABC and hospice because I've helped get them started."

And he wishes others would learn to enjoy the rewards of volunteering.

"An infinite number of things can be done through volunteer work," he said.

At his recent 80th birthday party, some friends gave Mr. Klie a scroll that reads in part, "Old volunteers never fade away, they just join another committee."

"That's really the story of my life," he said.

Mary Wesson helps kids who are in trouble

town and this was one of them," Ms. Wesson said.

There were also private donations including at least one from a local company. When the private funds ran out, the town picked up the cost of the program. Funding for the program was cut for the first time last year, fiscal '92, but was restored this year.

The program received $3,500 in FY '93, which pays Ms. Wesson's salary, and could receive more funding in FY '94, according to the town manager.

"It will probably go up depending on her work load for next year," Mr. Stapczynski said this week.

During the year it was unfunded, Ms. Wesson continued to provide her services on a volunteer basis, serving 44 clients who performed 1,315 hours of community service.

"The program did not stop. There were too many kids involved in it to say that what was happening was not important," Ms. Wesson said.

Ms. Wesson works fulltime in the Lawrence School Department, where she is a parent facilitator for parents whose children are in the Chapter 1 program. She puts in seven to 10 hours a week in the office for the juvenile diversion program, and an equal amount of time on the phone or doing site visitations.

Who is involved

At the time the program was started, all criminal charges would go to court, regardless of the age or history of the youth or the circumstances of the crime. The first clients Ms. Wesson had were mostly charged with committing acts of vandalism. Now in addition to vandalism, the kids she sees have committed one or more of a wide range of criminal activity.

"Between Lawrence and Andover there is nothing I haven't seen or been a part of," she said.

Her clients are from Andover, Lawrence and other surrounding communities, but all have committed crimes in Andover. Their ages range from 11 to 18 years old, although occasionally an older person is referred by the courts. The program has served about 500 youths in its 12-year history.

"I've had about 43 kids this (fiscal) year already," Ms. Wesson said. "I have 14 kids in the program right now."

The charges against the 43 included one for assault and battery and another for assault and battery on an elderly person, 13 cases of vandalism, nine of theft, six for possession of drugs and/or drug apparatus, four for shoplifting, three for breaking and entering, two for unauthorized use of a car, two for trespassing, one for possession of a BB gun and one for an unnamed misdemeanor.

"We may have a kid for substance abuse involved in the program and that could involve drugs or alcohol," Ms. Wesson said. "These are like misdemeanors."

Of the 43 clients she's served this year, eight females and 35 males, only two have returned to the court system charged with additional crimes. The 43 provided 999 hours of service to the community.

How it works

Ms. Wesson would not talk about specific situations for fear of violating the privacy she guarantees to those who participate in the program, but she is usually referred cases from the police department or the court. She calls a kid and invites the child and his or her parents in for an interview.

"During the initial interview we set up a contract," she said.

The contract details the youth's responsibility, his or her ownership of the problem and the consequences of his or her actions. Ms. Wesson then keys on making use of the child's free time by plugging them into a community service site.

The community service is usually a general maintenance project such as a cleanup, but might involve collating materials at Memorial Hall Library or working in the laundry room or in some other capacity at Academy Manor or Wingate nursing homes. The YMCA also offers opportunities for the offenders to work with youngsters.

"They've got a great leadership program there," Ms. Wesson said of the Andover/North Andover YMCA.

One youth, a 19-year-old, installed a whole computer system at Children's Hospital in Boston, according to Ms. Wesson.

"I've had kids get jobs because of these programs, which is really a positive step," she said. "They really begin a work ethic for themselves."

She finds the program isn't as effective for the client if it is dragged on too long.

"Generally it's best when they are placed in a very concentrated community-service program. They finish and they're on to something else in their life."

An exit interview at the end of the program includes a self evaluation, which is the client's opportunity to say what, if anything, he or she learned from the program.

well in school they're not doing well in other parts of their life," she said.

For instance, problems with friends for a teen-ager going through the usual trials of adolescence will affect performance in school and relations with family members, according to Ms. Wesson.

Sometimes a quick fix is not the answer and it will take many resources over a long period of time to address a particular student's situation. Those resources may include counseling, substance-abuse programs, job training, summer school or any combination of those and other support services.

"There's no guarantees with any of this, really," she said.

Success record

The alternative sentencing program boasts a 96.5 percent success rate, according to Ms. Wesson. That means the rate of recidivism, the number of youths who reappear in the court system after going through the program, is only 3.5 percent.

"I just think that this program has been very successful and the kids that never come back in the system again are the testimony that that happens," Ms. Wesson said.

'The kids that never come back in the system again are the testimony.'

"And they are certainly free to tell me they gained nothing from it, if that's what happened," Ms. Wesson said, although that is not the desired result.

Her first priority is how the youths are doing at school. Family and community are the other two areas of performance she looks at.

"Usually if they're not doing

The saddest cases are the children who don't respond at all, she said.

"They don't care about anything."

When she first started the program, kids used to come to the police station to ask how they could get involved with it.

"I had to be careful not to make it too attractive," she said.

She said kids wanted to be involved in positive things.

"I tell the kids volunteerism and community service are very valuable experiences in their lives."

Still, the alternative sentencing program is just a little different from most volunteer opportunities, she said.

"The way they get into the program is a little different than volunteerism or through church."

But the importance of the service is just as important and valuable, she said.

It is tough to find advocates for the program because of its sensitive nature, according to Ms. Wesson.

"Those that have been with the program can't really be an advocate for the program because they don't want anyone to know that they have been a participant in it," she said.

But she did share, anonymously, one letter she received from a grandparent of two youths who went through the program. The grandparent wrote that it was unfortunate that the children had to be involved in such a serious incident, but expressed appreciation for the "exemplary" handling of the discipline by both Ms. Wesson and the arresting officer.

"The very firm and thorough explanation of the seriousness of the incident, coupled with the community-service requirement, has provided the children an experience which hopefully will serve them well into the future," the grandparent wrote. "As an Andover resident and taxpayer since 1962, it is my hope that the department will continue to make this program available to the young children in Andover as an important assist in their attempt to cope with a very troubled teenage environment."

Personal satisfaction

Ms. Wesson was born and grew up in Lawrence. She met her husband, Charles Wesson, an Andover selectman, while both were students at Merrimack College. They moved to Andover in 1958.

She has a master's degree in education and experience in teaching and working with at-risk youth, both in Lawrence. Despite the increasing number of grandchildren, Ms. Wesson has no plans to give up her work with the alternative sentencing program.

"I love it. After 12 years, I would be out of it if I didn't."

Two fires keep firefighters hopping

By Don Staruk

Two fires in Andover had firefighters hopping Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

A fire at 11 Locke St. at approximately 7:15 Tuesday evening did extensive damage to the second floor kitchen area and caused smoke damage on the first and second floors of the three story building, and water damage on the first and second floors.

Joseph B. Doherty Jr., owner of the building, Deborah Doherty and Anne Doherty, were all home at the time and were alerted to the fire by smoke detectors, according to Deputy Fire Lincoln Clark.

"It was a kitchen fire on the second floor," Deputy Wright said. "Everyone got out safely."

Fire at the Spa

A fire at the Andover Spa in Elm Square at 8:30 Tuesday morning created a lot of commotion in the busy square but did little damage to the building. Dust in a heating duct caught fire, possibly from a cigarette ash being pulled into a vent, and smoldered, sending smoke through the store.

Firefighters cut a hole in the duct work and removed the smoldering materials.

Won't lose jobs . .

Currently, the only user fee in the school system is a $210 yearly charge for secondary school students who ride buses to and from school.

The superintendent did not suggest dropping the transportation fee. But, he did ask the committee to consider a future fee for non-special education students participating in the town's Early Childhood program at Shawsheen School. He did not name an amount.

The town is mandated by the state to provide early intervention programs for special-needs preschoolers, but it is not required to provide the program for the children who do not have special needs, he said. Currently, regular education students attended the classes and serve as "role models" for the special needs students, said Dr. McQuillan.

"Mary French (director of Andover's special education services) suggested this to help keep the cost of the program down," he said.

"We have carried the program for quite some time, and with the costs going up and up and up," the fee may be a solution, Dr. McQuillan said.

The committee will discuss the early childhood program fee at subsequent meetings. The next committee meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the school office building on Whittier Court.

Instrumental music

The committee's approval of

Dr. McQuillan's recommendation does not mean that Stephen Livingston, the instrumental music teacher who was slated to be laid off when a vocal teacher on sabbatical returns next fall, will be hired to work the additional six-and-a-half hours. Diana Kolben, coordinator of the school's fine arts programs, suggested that the administration increase part-time instrumental music teachers' schedules to fulltime, he said. According to Dr. McQuillan, the additional hours would be broken down in the following manner to total:

- .8 teacher at AHS;
- 1.2 teachers at DMS;
- 1 teacher at WMS;
- 1.4 teachers at Bancroft EL;
- 1 teacher at South EL;
- 1.1 teachers at Sanborn EL;
- 2 teachers at West EL.

Committee member Susan Jenkins said she is not completely happy with the plan because it does not guarantee that the High School band will have a qualified director. Mr. Livingston currently is paid a stipend to direct the High School band.

"It may not be all you had hoped for, but it does meet the needs of the music program as defined by the program coordinator," said Dr. McQuillan.

Committee members agreed they will not re-hire the learning specialists or increase the hours for part-time instrumental music teachers until they are certain there will be money to fund the positions.

"I'm not willing to do anything until I see a (state aid) check," said Ms. Jenkins.

About 800 have answered AIDS surveys

By Lisa Boudreau

Almost 300 adults and 500 high school students answered the AIDS awareness surveys distributed by the School Committee earlier this month. The two surveys are part of the committee's effort to gauge the level of the community's awareness of the deadly disease and find out if Andover teen-agers are at as much, or greater risk of contracting AIDS than other teens nationwide.

"We are excited that people did take the time to complete (the surveys) and we feel we had a good response," said Mary Lyman, a member of the School Committee and the subcommittee it formed to develop and analyze the surveys.

The volunteer subcommittee is comprised of health-care educators, medical professionals and a few Andover High School students. Responses to the high school survey were tabulated and are now being analyzed by a computer that was programmed by volunteers at Raytheon Co. to determine what risk-behavior categories Andover High students fall into.

The results of the adult survey currently are being tabulated and will then be analyzed by computer to determine how much the citizens who responded know about AIDS as well as what type of AIDS education they would support in the schools.

The committee hopes to present two community forums - the first to announce the survey results and the second to discuss what type of AIDS awareness and prevention should be taught in the schools.

The deadline has passed to fill in the surveys.

June 28 is last day of school

The School Committee voted to make June 28 the last day of school, a Monday, and only half a day.

At their Tuesday-night meeting, committee members also set the date for the start of the next school year: Tuesday, Sept. 7. And they agreed to make Thursday, June 23, 1994, the last day of school.

If next winter proves to be milder than the 1993 one, school could get out earlier in June of 1994, because the school calendar allows for five snow days.

At the same meeting, the School Committee agreed not to observe Good Friday next year, which traditionally is a day off for Andover students. Committee members said giving the Christian holiday is discriminatory since some other religious holidays are not observed.

SHAWSHEEN SQUARE PLANS

Planners and other town officials will host a meeting for residents and other interested people in discussing traffic, historic and aesthetic changes proposed for the square area on Wednesday, May 5, 7:30 p.m., at the Lawrence Savings Bank in the square.

Permit parking reduced

Selectmen Monday reduced the number of parking spaces set aside for downtown businesses from 50 to 22, the number that have been sold so far.

Planner Laura Hill told the selectmen that despite sufficient publicity, permit sales were lower than anticipated. Additional spaces will be set aside as permits are sold. Selectman Larry Larsen said he would purchase two immediately. He had held off because he didn't want to prevent others from getting them.

Paying tribute to good teachers

Ask any adult who has been through at least high school: Who was your favorite teacher while you were going to school? The question usually brings a smile to the person's face and then he or she can launch into a description of a person who was able to make contagious to students the love of that teacher's subject.

In fact, if we could make a list of the characteristics our favorite teachers had, we might be able to focus on some key problems schools are facing.

The Andover Fund for Education and the Andover Chamber of Commerce have joined together to ask people, young, old, and those in between, to write a brief paragraph of how certain teachers have made a difference in their lives. Some of those paragraphs will be printed in the Townsmen.

In addition, the two groups will hold a Teacher Appreciation Day at Old Town Hall on Thursday, May 13, to focus on and to express appreciation for the job Andover's teachers do.

All teachers in the community are invited to be guests of the Fund for Education and the Chamber of Commerce.

So sit and think and get into the memory of that special teacher who helped shape who you are or what you are doing today. Then capture that teacher in a paragraph and send the tribute into the Townsmen. Andover has scores of excellent teachers. Let's pay tribute to them.

How to write

The Townsmen welcomes readers' letters.

Letters must be signed with a name and address and should be no longer than two typed pages, double spaced. Please include a phone number, in case there are questions. The editor reserves the right to edit letters for space, clarity, taste and libel.

Letters are due by Monday at 5 p.m. Send them to 33 Chestnut St., or fax them to 508-470-2819.

Ducklings and ice cream: a summer ritual

By Lisa Boudreau

It's a good thing the Horn Bridge on Central street is out. If it weren't, I'd be forced to drive by the former Rose Glen Dairy on Andover Street more often, which always makes me feel a little sad.

It's too bad it closed, because future generations of Andover kids will never get the chance to partake in the summer ritual of homemade ice cream, raspberry-lime Rickys and feeding the ducks at the pond across the street.

The Rose Glen Dairy ice cream store, which was located at 5 Andover St. for more than 35 years, has gone out of business. The ice cream store was originally an extension of Sid White's Wild Rose Dairy Farm located off Lowell Street, where the Wild Rose Drive housing development is now.

A little more than a year ago, Doug Adams, who bought the ice cream business from Mr. White in the '80s, swapped buildings with the owner of John's Village Deli, located a block or so down the road. Mr. Adams closed the ice cream store around Christmas time and announced earlier this month that he will not re-open it.

One of my most cherished memories of the dairy, and Mr. White, is from a warm, spring day some time in the mid '70s. My sister, Jodie, and I were walking down Summer Street on our way to the former Doherty Elementary School when we came across a half a dozen or so ducklings clustered around their dead mother at the corner of Whittier Street.

My sister, a schoolmate and I scooped up the ducklings and carried them to the East Junior High School where my father, the late Ted Boudreau, taught science.

My father put the ducklings in a box and we took them to Mr. White, who had several animals, including ducks, on his farm adjacent to the ice cream store.

Mr. White brought the ducklings to the pond and released them into the care of the other mother ducks. In subsequent visits we learned that a few of the babies survived. Some of the ducks living at the pond today may even be related to the ones we saved.

Several people I've talked with also have a special place in their hearts for Rose Glen Dairy and Mr. White's collection of animals.

Margaret Foster, of 96 Central St., recalls that trips to the dairy with her children, Cheryl, Karen, Bill and Rachel, now in their 20s and 30s, always included visits to see the cows and horses.

"On nice days we'd walk down

'Some of the ducks living at the pond today may even be related to the ones we saved.'

and get an ice cream and go across the street to see the cows and horses," she said.

Alix Driscoll, of 11 Forbes Lane and an intern at this newspaper, recalls how she and her two children, Mark and Hillary, who are now in their 20s, used to go to the duck pond on the early summer days.

When her son was a toddler he used to carry with him a "well-chewed copy of Make Way For Ducklings," she said.

"Mark had proudly named the mallard ducklings Jack, Kack, Lack, Mack, Nack, Ouack, Pack and Quack, just like in the book. They often came when he called, climbing onto the banks to gobble the remains of soggy sugar cones," Ms. Driscoll said.

We need left-hand arrows

Editor, Townsmen:

Re the traffic problem in Shawsheen Square. Although I am not an engineer, it appears that left-hand turns onto Route 133 are the most dangerous, annoying and frustrating.

Instead of spending hundreds or thousands of dollars changing the patterns, why not add left arrows or delayed lights to the existing lights?

Please consider more left-hand arrows in Andover. Thank you.

Good work, School board

Editor, Townsmen:

We would like to applaud the recent decision of the School Committee to utilize Shawsheen School as an educational institution for the next decade. Citizens of Andover have made many wise decisions, such as the renovation of the Old Town Hall and the purchase of conservation land, and this another that we can be justifiably proud of.

Shawsheen has a rich tradition of providing a great educational beginning to the children who attend the school. In this fast-paced world which breeds unfamiliarity, Shawsheen remains a small school where everyone knows your name. It is a place with a unique warmth and sense of order coupled with sound educational practices. It is interesting to note that in 17 years of teaching in this school system, we have never heard of a teacher voluntarily transferring out of that building. Teachers throughout the system speak fondly of the joy of having the opportunity to have worked at that school. Students who attended the school and are much older still smile when you mention their elementary experience.

It has been said that most buildings have a 70-year-old shelf life and it would be foolish to sink money into such an old structure. Shawsheen, however, is a solid structure in a neighborhood location which has strong points such as the availability of the superb SHED program. As teachers, we have viewed first hand the warmth of the SHED staff towards the children entrusted to them. As parents of a child attending the program, we couldn't be more pleased with the choice of enriching educational activities our child experiences there. It is truly one of our daughter's favorite places in the world to be and is a shining example of superb educational care.

Housecleaning: Why do it?

Editor, Townsmen:

On the subject of housecleaning:

The subject of housecleaning, (apartment cleaning, condo cleaning, etc.) is one of those political/social hot buttons that serves, in the minds of many, as a symbol of dominance or subservience. It seems that in latter 20th-century America, freedom from and avoidance of housecleaning is evidence of some type of social progress.

There is a profound question worth asking about housecleaning: Why did our mothers make such a big deal about it anyway? Did mothers have little else to do in the 1950s and 1960s? Was housecleaning part of an elaborate conspiracy to control women?

The need for housecleaning evolved from an important social goal: To stay healthy and live a long life. Dirt, grime, dust and other entities which prompt housecleaning harbor any number of bacteria, fungi and other potentially harmful organisms. Humankind learned that a proactive strategy to maintain health - good hygiene practices - was important. Housecleaning was part of that strategy.

Our complex lifestyles have required us to make many choices about how we spend our time. Given the medical safeguards in place and the general maintenance of health and well-being we enjoy today, housecleaning does not play the same proactive role it once was afforded; the act of housecleaning has, as a result, taken a lower priority.

If the need to prevent disease and poor health becomes a greater priority, it's likely that we need not look any further than our own dusty and grimy homes to begin solving the problem.

Saved his life

Editor, Townsmen:

I would like to express my sincere thanks and deepest gratitude to all of those highly professional people who responded to my wife's urgent call for help on Easter Sunday afternoon when she returned home and found me unconscious and nonresponsive. The Andover police department, fire department and EMTs certainly displayed their professionalism and caring. I also wish to thank all of the personnel at Lawrence General Hospital who were so involved in my recovery.

A special thank you to my neighbors, Stan and Carolyn Amstutz, who were so instrumental in helping to save my life.

SENIOR CITIZENS

By Sharon L. Souza

The Senior Center is anticipating some remodeling of the lobby area and a newly acquired large room off the main lobby, to be used as a drop-in and multifunction room. We are accepting donations of furniture and such, which might be used to fill these spaces to create a homey atmosphere - sofas, recliners, easy chairs, rockers, footstools, end tables, lamps, pictures, sewing machines, craft tables, woodworking tools and/or any item which might be used. If you have something to contribute, call the Senior Center (470-3830).

The Council on Aging is in the process of redesigning the Senior Center's monthly newsletter. We invite all Andover Seniors to contribute photos taken at senior events, news, poems, announcements, personal notes, stories or artwork or any other memento or memorabilia.

Have you thought of a "catchy" name for our newsletter? If you have, submit your idea to the box in the Senior Center office. Entries will be collected until May 28. The Council on Aging board will vote and select the winning title. The person submitting the winning name will receive a $25 gift certificate for DeMoulas Super

For three years, Andover seniors have helped the Andona Society prepare for its major fundraiser, Clown Town, which is Saturday, May 15, 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. in The Park. Here, they show off some of the crafts they're making for the event. From left, they are, Lee Valliere, Alice Starta, Lisa Guy (Andona Society member) with her daughter, Jacquelyn, Maxine Simpson (Andona Society), Madeline Kinnear, Ellen Goodwin and Vivian Guy. Olivia Scilleppi, seniors volunteer coordinator, has been coordinating the effort. The seniors have been working on the event every Monday since last fall.

Market.

Tickets are on sale for the "Young at Heart Ball" (formerly known as the "Senior Prom"), which will be held Wednesday, May 19, at the Andover Marriott Hotel at 6 p.m. Dinner, dancing and door prizes will be the agenda for the evening. Limousine service is available for the Andover seniors attending this event. Ticket cost is $20 per person and may be purchased at the Andover Senior Center.

Wendell Coltin, Blue Cross/Blue Shield consultant on Medicare and Medex, will speak Monday, May 3, at the Senior Center on 1993 changes in both health insurance plans. The lecture will start at 12:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, May 4, Mike DeLuca, an investment counselor from Paine/Webber, will present a lecture on "Retirement Investing." Topics to be discussed will be facts you should know before you re-invest your CD, how to generate tax-free income, insulating assets from inflation and protecting your funds from taxes and maximizing the return on your IRAs or IRA rollovers. The lecture will start at 12:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Do you have someone you'd like to speak to long distance for Mother's Day? On Wednesday, May 5, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., AT&T will be at the Andover Senior Center to introduce the new phone/video program. If you would like to make a call and be able to see the person you're speaking to, call us to reserve your time. It's free.

The Andover Chapter of the Alzheimer's Support Group will sponsor a lecture at the Andover Senior Center on Monday, May 10, at 7 p.m., which is open to the public. Alan Dick, R.N., manager of utilization management at Tufts Associates Health Plans, will speak.

Selectmen put off early retirement vote

By Don Staruk

Selectmen Monday night discussed the early retirement program for town employees approved at Town Meeting, but decided not to vote on whether to initiate the program until they have more information on its financial benefits to the town.

The town's funding mechanism for the program was approved by the state prior to Town Meeting, and the Town Meeting gave selectmen approval to initiate the program if board members see fit. But the board still has to vote on the parameters of the program, including the number of employees who will be eligible and the years of service to be added to their benefits, before the program can begin.

"My suggestion is to go with a three-year option for 20 employees and I base that on a number of things," Buzz Stapczynski, town manager, told the board.

Those things include that the fact that the savings to the town "peaks dramatically" at 20 employees and does not increase much after that. The town manager said officials can identify the first 10 eligible employees most likely to take part in the program, and have a pretty good idea on the other 10, although even that data is a little more difficult to analyze.

After 20, because specific circumstances are unknown, it is extremely difficult to analyze whether there would be a cost savings to the town, Mr. Stapczynski said.

At 20 persons, the program will provide a savings to the town of $128,000 the first year, which drops each succeeding year until there is little or no savings in three and a half or four years. Selectman Larry Larsen asked Mr. Stapczynski to try to get a more accurate estimate on when the program would stop saving the town money and actually start costing money, if that is possible.

Mr. Stapczynski said Wednesday that town officials will be talking to an actuary to try and get more definite figures.

Selectman Charles Wesson said he couldn't vote for the program unless it could be shown that it would involve at least a 30 percent reduction in the jobs it affected, which would mean that six of the 20 retirees' positions would not be filled. That will not happen under the current plan, according to the town manager.

"Of the 20, there is only one which would not be filled," Mr. Stapczynski said.

But he is going to check and see if the program would result in the same savings that cutting those positions would offer.

Selectman James Barenboim asked if board members could get a look at the specific names and jobs of the likely retirees so they could better understand why more positions could not be cut. Rod Smith, town accountant and member of the retirement board, said the applicants who have expressed interest in the program did so with the condition of anonymity. Mr. Stapczynski was going to check and see if the board could get a look at those names in an executive session.

The board will take up the early retirement program again at its next meeting on Monday, May 10. It may or may not vote on it at the time.

350th Anniversary Committee

In other selectmen's news, Mr. Stapczynski asked that anyone interested in serving on a committee organizing the celebration for the town's 350th anniversary of its founding, to be held in 1996, contact him. April Town Meeting approved the appointment of the committee and the appropriation of $20,000 to spend on the celebration.

Mr. Stapczynski said he would like to appoint the committee members by late May or early June so the committee could get working by June.

Brush drop-off

Mr. Stapczynski said he is working with Bob McQuade, Department of Public Works director, to arrange opening the town's brush dump at Bald Hill on High Plain Road for a couple weeks this spring so residents who miss the burning deadline can drop off yard waste.

"It will probably be for a couple of weeks," Mr. Stapczynski said.

Permits for burning brush are only available through this Saturday, May 1.

The brush dump is just about full, but Mr. Stapczynski is hoping the material already there can be moved around so the site can accommodate some additional tree branches and brush.

Residents can take leaves and grass clippings to the Bald Hill site anytime, according to Dennis Sheehan, administrative assistant at the DPW. The gate is not open but residents can walk around the gate and place leaves and grass only on the asphalt pad or in the barrels that are there.

Two ZBA vacancies

Two members of the Zoning Board of Appeals have asked not to be reappointed in July: Jane Griswold, an architect, and C. Ryan Buckley, an attorney.

Ms. Griswold was a regular board member for 15 years, from 1975 to 1990, and has been an associate member for the last three years. Mr. Buckley, chairman of the board, was an associate member from 1987 to 1990 and a regular member since then.

Mr. Stapczynski will be going through the town's talent bank applicants in his search for replacements for the two, but also encouraged anyone who is interested in serving on the board, but who has not filled out a talent bank form, to apply.

Revaluation inspections begin

Patriot Properties, the private contractor hired by the town to perform physical inspections of all homes in town for revaluation, began household inspections this week. It will probably take three or four months to complete the inspections, the town manager said Monday.

"We are looking forward to getting in as many homes as possible," Mr. Stapczynski said.

Residents should receive a letter from the town describing the inspection process in the week or two before inspectors show up at their house. The police department should also be informed on a daily basis where the inspectors are working. They will also know who the inspectors are and what type of cars they are in. Each inspector will also have identification on him or her.

"If for any reason you feel uncomfortable, obviously don't let anybody in your house," Mr. Stapczynski warned.

The inspectors will measure the outside of homes but will also need to go inside to count bedrooms and bathrooms and such.

Youth summer jobs application deadline

Applications for the town's summer jobs program for youths will be available on or after Monday, May 3. Those interested in applying should contact Candace Hall, personnel director, at town offices for applications.

Youths will have to fill out the applications and return them with letters of reference. A lottery for the 20 jobs available will be held in early June.

"We expect to be oversubscribed for this program," Mr. Stapczynski said.

The jobs are being offered as part of the

Our Town Program, an effort by a group of community leaders to create positive change in town. The jobs will be funded by the town.

The youths will clean up parks and play areas in town, paint and perform other maintenance projects.

Senator Wall eulogized

Selectman Charles Wesson gave his respects to Senator William Wall, of Lawrence, who died this week after a car accident in Haverhill. Mr. Wall served a total of 40 years as either state representative or senator from the area.

"Bill Wall was a true friend to Andover and whenever Andover needed him in his capacities he was there," Mr. Wesson said.

Mr. Wesson said that what he will remember of Mr. Wall was that whenever they marched in a parade together, when it was over Mr. Wesson's and the other officials' feet would be hurting and tired but Mr. Wall would be headed off to one or two more parades. "We'll all miss Sen. Bill Wall," Mr. Wesson said.

Town Meeting entertainment

During a brief review of Town Meeting, Selectman Charles Wesson suggested that next year the town should try to arrange some kind of entertainment to draw a crowd since there is no longer a quorum requirement. Mr. Wesson suggested having a band play or arranging some other type of performance prior to the meeting.

If you are separated from your husband and are concerned that your husband may intend to fight you for custody of your children, you may be hesitant to date, socialize or pursue a career because you are afraid you will lose your children if you do. If you have been the primary caretaker of your children before or since the separation, the standard which a Court will apply to determine which parent shall be awarded custody - the best interest of the children - does not necessarily require you to make drastic changes in your lifestyle or your career.

Local man charged with 119 counts of malicious damage

By Lisa Boudreau

A 19-year-old Andover man was arrested by Haverhill police Monday, and charged in connection with a vandalism spree earlier this month in Haverhill, Andover, North Andover, Groveland and Boxford.

Shawn Stephens, 19, of 37 McKenney Circle, was arrested Monday night at the Haverhill police station and charged with 119 counts of malicious damage to motor vehicles in that city.

According to Haverhill Detective Osmond Hardy, Mr. Stephens and two Haverhill juveniles were arrested and charged with shooting "upwards of 200" car and truck windows with a BB rifle in Haverhill on Friday and Saturday, April 9 and 10.

Detective Hardy said the three were arraigned in court Tuesday, but he did not know what penalties they may face.

"I wouldn't even want to take a guess. A lot will be taken into consideration I'm sure. We're talking about thousands and thousands of dollars worth of damage," he said.

"Some windows will cost $800 or more and others may be able to be replaced for about $150," Detective Hardy said.

The three may face additional, similar charges stemming from the vandalism to vehicles in the other communities.

"There may be as many as 25 (charges) from Groveland, North Andover could have a few, and so could Boxford and maybe Andover," he said.

The three may also face as many as nine charges in Andover resulting from the vandalism spree earlier this month.

Sunday, April 18 - At 7:33 p.m., a car reported stolen in Medford was recovered at the Rolling Green Tennis Club on Lowell Street.

Friday, April 23 - At 2:21 p.m., a Balmoral Street woman reported her 1989 white, Ford Mustang convertible stolen from her parking lot. (The car was recovered in Lawrence at about midnight.)

At 9:20 p.m., Boston police recovered a 1987 Subaru reported stolen in Andover by a Virginia Road woman.

Sunday, April 25 - At 11:19 a.m., a Merrimack College student reported his sister's car had been stolen from a dorm parking lot overnight and had since been found burned on Beacon Street in Lawrence.

At 12:07 p.m., a 1981 Chevrolet Citation was reported taken on Railroad Street.

SPORTS

Terry Retelle has been elected captain of the UMass/Amherst men's ski team. He specializes in giant slalom events. Terry was captain of the Andover High School ski team and skied in the Buddy Werner Ski League. The UMass ski team is ranked 12th nationally. Coach William McConnell feels this is his strongest team in years and a young team that will only improve. The sophomore is the son of Albert and Evelyn Retelle of 64 Reservation Road.

Steve Shepard sparks track team to championship at Haverhill Invitational

By Rick Harrison

Ask Andover High track Coach Dick Collins if he'll miss Steve Shepard next year and a trace of incredulity creeps into his voice.

"Just a little bit," he says, laughing at the massive understatement.

The Villanova-bound senior All-Scholastic was nothing short of routinely spectacular as he led the Golden Warrior boys to the team championship at the annual Haverhill Invitational.

Shepard, the reigning Eastern Mass. Class B 300-meter intermediate hurdles champion, had a part in 30 of Andover's meet-high 61 points.

He was a double winner individually in the triple jump and 200 meters, and he also anchored the victorious mile relay team whose triumph in the last event officially clinched first place for AHS.

Three days earlier Shepard was a triple winner in Merrimack Valley Conference dual meet action against Wilmington, capturing the triple jump, 100 meter dash and 200 meter dash as Andover belted the visiting Wildcats 109-36.

Double wins by Kerry Hagerty (javelin, discus), Stacey Lavoie (100 and 300 meter hurdles) and Amanda Verreault (400 meters, high jump) helped the Andover girls launch their MVC dual meet schedule successfully, as the Lady Warriors thrashed Wilmington 123-13.

The Andover boys are already 2-0 in duals and have won an invitational title, while the girls are 1-0-0 and placed second in the Wilmington Invitational.

The boys, defending league champs, have a consecutive dual meet win streak of lucky 13 stretching back to an 83-57 loss to Central Catholic on May 8, 1991. They won their final two meets in the spring of '91 and posted a perfect 9-0-0 mark last year.

Both Andover teams returned to MVC dual meet action yesterday, hosting Haverhill, and Saturday powerful intra-town archrival Phillips Academy will invade the Lovely oval at 1:30 p.m.

Andover will also send a small, select group of underclassmen to the annual Northern Area Freshman-Sophomore Meet Saturday morning. Witman mending

Non-league win highlights Lady W's week

By Rick Harrison

A 10-4 non-league victory over North Andover highlighted another roller-coaster week for the Andover High varsity softball team.

The Lady Warriors continued to struggle against Merrimack Valley Conference opponents, dropping a tough 4-3 extra-inning decision to Methuen and bowing 9-4 to Tewksbury.

Monday's scheduled game against Billerica was postponed by rain and rescheduled for Tuesday, while yesterday the locals were slated to play Lawrence High.

AHS entered the week at 2-4 overall and 1-4 in the league.

Andover returns to action tomorrow, hosting Chelmsford (3:30 p.m.) at the West Middle School field, and hits the road early next week for games at Lowell (Monday) and Dracut (Wednesday).

"We're hitting the ball better this year than we did the past two seasons, Lindsey (Sweeney) has pitched well and the defensive play in the infield has been outstanding," said Coach Ken Pellerin.

"But we've made a number of errors in the outfield that have hurt. The loss to Methuen was especially tough, and I think the effects of that game carried over to Tewksbury. The girls seemed to be looking around waiting for something bad to happen (Tewksbury).

"North Andover gave us a big boost," continued Coach Pellerin. "We manufactured most of our runs and made things work, like stealing home twice on the catcher's throw back to the pitcher and throwing a runner out at the plate.

"But we're the type of club that has to do those things early. So far we've had trouble trying to come from behind.

"We have a terrific group of girls. But they're all nice, quiet kids. We don't have a real firebrand, someone like Nicole Ricci, to make noise and stir it up when things aren't going our way."

Sophomore Eileen Sweeney led the team in batting through the first six games, boasting a .500 average with six singles in 12 trips to the plate.

Lindsey Sweeney (.285) belted the first home run of the season against Methuen, sophomore April Cannif had a double and triple, and freshman Vanessa Blank a triple.

Blank also made a successful varsity pitching debut with three strong innings of hitless hurling against North Andover.

Defensively shortstop Amy Cassidy, first baseman Rachel Buonopane and Eileen Sweeney (who has played second, short and third) have excelled.

Andover, 10-4

The Lady Warriors scored in every inning except the third, combining eight hits, 11 walks by North Andover pitchers and some imaginative baserunning into the non-league

Blue and Gold Pony League teams hold tryouts Sunday

The Andover Blue and Gold baseball teams of the Suburban Pony League will hold their annual spring tryouts this Sunday, May 2 from 1-5 p.m. and next Saturday and Sunday, May 8-9, from 1-5 p.m. at the Andover High varsity and junior varsity fields.

All candidates must be between the ages of 13 and 15 years and may not turn 16 prior to Aug. 1, 1993.

All prospective 13-year-old players should report to the field at 1 p.m. all three days, while 14- and 15-year-olds should report at 3 p.m.

All returning players must attend the tryouts for the purpose of registration.

A nominal fee will be charged players making either team.

The two Andover teams will once again compete in the Suburban Pony League, which also includes teams from North Andover, Methuen, North Reading, Reading, Wilmington, Lowell, Lynnfield, Stoneham, Winthrop and new entry Medford.

Each team is guaranteed a regular season schedule of close to 20 games, with playoffs to follow for the top clubs in both divisions.

The season will start in mid-June and run through early August.

The two Andover teams have enjoyed unqualified success in the league, both Blue and Gold combining to win numerous division and eight overall league championships during the past decade.

Last year was one of the rare times Andover did not prevail, with Blue reaching the playoff finals before losing a best-of-3 series to Methuen. The final game was a 1-0 classic.

Most members of Andover High's back-to-back State Division 1 championship teams are alumni of the Pony League program, as are the majority of players on this year's AHS varsity and junior varsity squads.

Returning as head coaches this year are Dan Grams (Gold) and Joe Iarrobino (Blue), with Leo Gravel III the Gold team assistant and Steve Tisbert the Blue team assistant.

Further information is available by calling Jim Oppenheim at 475-4004.

Lawrence Y extends registration for Itty Bitty Baseball

The Merrimack Valley YMCA, Lawrence Branch, has extended registration for Itty Bitty Baseball until May 1. This program is open to boys and girls ages 5 through 9 (birthday May 1, 1993, or before).

Teams are formed according to age. Cushioned balls are used with beginners to develop confidence. Each session is divided into a practice and a game. All practice and games sessions begin at 10:30 a.m. and run through noon on Saturdays at either the Frost School

Field (behind the school) in South Lawrence or the football field at the O'Neil Field in North Lawrence.

The fee is $25 for YMCA members and $45 for non-members.

The program begins May 1 and ends June 26. Register at the Merrimack Valley YMCA, Lawrence Branch, 40 Lawrence St., Lawrence, MA 01840.

For more information, call Craig Wilson at the YMCA.

Merrimack Valley Pirates swim team holds tryouts

The Merrimack Valley Pirate swim team will hold spring tryouts May 3-7 at the Greater Lawrence Technical School, 57 River Road, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

There are 10 open slots on the team which is comprised of swimmers from 7 to 18 years of age.

Michelle Distefano

Andover native earns third varsity letter in ice hockey

Andover native Michelle Distefano recently was awarded her third varsity letter as a member of the Northeastern University women's ice hockey team. The goalie was the Huskies' key all season.

The junior, used a quick and attacking style of defense, racking up save after save.

Ms. Distefano stopped 230 of 259 shots for an .888 save percentage and held opponents to a mere three goals per night. At the Granite State Tournament on January 16, she halted 36 New Hampshire shots to lead the Huskies to a 5-2 win, their first victory in Durham since 1989. On February 3, she kept the Huskies in the game against powerful Providence by halting 37 offerings.

Ms. Distefano played soccer and softball while at Andover High School. She played for the boys' hockey team and led them to their first victory of the 1989-90 season.

The criminal justice major is part of Northeastern's Cooperative Education program and will graduate in 1995.

Gilmartin couldn't pull it off in sudden-death

John Gilmartin of Andover lost on the third hole of a sudden-death playoff to Army's Trey Owen for medalist honors at last weekend's Patriot League championships at the Navy Golf Club. Each player tied in regulation at 232 and Gilmartin shot 76-81. Gilmartin, who tied for 24th at ECAC's in the fall, leads Colgate with a 76.8 scoring average.

Eric Ziady

Ziady promoted to business manager for athletics

Eric Ziady of Boston and Andover has been promoted to a key management position in the athletics department at Northeastern University.

The new business manager for athletics will implement the budgeting and scheduling strategies for the Huskies 22 men's and women's varsity sports.

A 1988 graduate of Providence College, Mr. Ziady has previously worked in the department's sports marketing, facility management and event operations areas. In his new position, he will coordinate schedules and budgets with head coaches and top level university administrators.

"This is a great opportunity for me to directly influence the success of our programs," said Mr. Ziady, who received his master's degree in sports management from Northeastern in 1989 and is currently enrolled in the university's master's of business administration curriculum. "Working under current economic constraints will certainly be a challenge."

Mr. Ziady has done consulting work in marketing for the Boston Organizing Committee and the North Atlantic Conference, a New England collegiate alignment that guarantees berths in the men's and women's NCAA basketball championships.

He has also worked for Host Communications as an advertising sales representative in sports promotions.

Mr. Ziady is an Andover native and a graduate of the Brooks School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball.

Brewster Academy soccer team for the 1993-'94 season.

Mites defeat Cape Ann in sudden death overtime

The Andover Mite Silver Division team defeated Cape Ann 3-2 to win the division championship in a hard-fought game at Merrimack College.

Cape Ann jumped to a 2-0 lead after the first period of play. The second period went scoreless. Ben Rogers scored two goals in the third to tie the game. The teams were still tied after one five-minute sudden death overtime. With 58 second left on the clock in the second sudden death overtime, Jeff Nadelson managed to score the winning goal.

Ross Kunkel, Richard Furness, Ryan Nadelson, Ryan and Reed Donoghue and Mat Stavropoulos provided outstanding defense all season and Sean O'Neill, Ben Rogers, Mike Reed, Doug Johnson, Billy Lindmark, Jeff Nadelson, Buddy Morris, David Lamond and C.J. Britt led the team's offensive play.

Kids are top rollerskaters

T.J. Martin, 9, Heather Martin, 8, and Paul Warlop, 9, won top honors at the spring rollerskating championship in Westerly, R.I. Heather and T.J. won in compulsory figures and dance and Paul won in compulsory figures and freestyle. They represented the Beverly Skating Club where they are coached by Priscilla Martin.

Paul is a fourth-grade student at Sanborn School. T.J. and Heather attend St. Augustine School where they are in fourth and second grade, respectively.

Synchronized swim team presents annual swim show

The Andover/North Andover synchronized swim team will present their annual swim show Saturday, May 1, at 3 and 5 p.m. This year's theme is "Hydrocharged," with flashing lights and funky upbeat music. Forty-six girls will show off their skills in solos, duets, trios and team routines and end the show with the "Candlelight Routine."

The 25 members of the competitive team, ages 10 to 18, practice an average of eight hours a week.

The 21 swimmers on the instructional ymcho group swim twice a week.

The team also works out in the Nautilus room to increase their strength and endurance.

The girls must learn about choreography and music, coordinating figures on top and under the water with different blends of songs and rhythms.

Members of the Parent Support Group man the spotlights, announce the swimmers and their acts, and control the music and special effects.

Tickets are on sale at the ANA YMCA or can be purchased at the door.

standout Sarah Witman is back working out with the team after being sidelined by a knee injury and threat of mononucleosis which fortunately never materialized. She is expected to return to competition soon.

"Sarah's absence left a big hole," noted Coach Collins. "We've been throwing a lot of different people into her events to try and compensate while she's been out."

Haverhill Invitational

The AHS boys won this meet for the second straight year with 61 points, edging out second place Whitman-Hanson (55), Reading (50) and Pinkerton Academy of Derry, N.H.

"It was very well-attended because there were no conflicting meets," explained Coach Collins. "There were about 30 schools, including several from New Hampshire and as far away as Cape Cod (Falmouth, Dennis-Yarmouth, etc.) and the South Shore."

"The number of teams was the main reason our winning score was only 61. Usually 61 points doesn't win a meet like this, but this one was very competitive."

"Some of the times and distances are deceptive because there was a gale blowing. Several of the sprints and jumps were contested smack into the wind."

The Golden Warriors clinched the team championship with a victory in the mile relay, entering that event in a dead heat for first place with Whitman-Hanson (51 points apiece).

"I was standing talking with a few of my 'cronies' when they told me we were tied for first place with only two relays left," noted the coach. "I didn't think we had that many points, and I was stunned Whitman-Hanson was up there because I hadn't seen one kid with that name on his jersey" (W-H athletes were incognito because they only had the nickname "Panthers" on their shirts).

Neither Andover nor Whitman-Hanson scored in the 4x100 sprint relay, but the locals then won the mile relay (W-H was fourth) to break the tie.

Andover scored in nine separate events.

Captain Steve Shepard anchored the mile squad, which also included senior Captain Colin Arsenault, sophomore Matt Ely and senior Jon Cirella. The quartet was clocked in 3:32.4.

Shepard had the only other firsts, soaring 43'5" in the triple jump and running the 200 meter dash into the teeth of the wind for a 23.5 time.

Junior Dave Jorgenson was second in the 110-meter high hurdles (16.2), and senior Dan Wrigley second in the treacherous wind-blown pole vault (10'0").

Cirella placed third in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (42.2), while fifth-place finishes went to Arsenault in the triple jump (39'6"), senior Captain J.P. Ciruso in the shot put (46'3") and senior Steve Kulcsar in the pole vault (9'0").

Rounding out the AHS scorers with sixth place finishes were sophomore triple jumper Eric Thompson (38'10"), senior Captain Brian Twomey in the mile (4:40), and the two-mile relay team of sophomore Mark Adams (2:18 split), senior Ben Moyer (2:19), sophomore Greg Foltz (2:20) and junior anchor Doug Edmands (2:18) in a combined 9:15.0.

Andover girls, 123-13

The Lady Warriors swept first place in all 16 events and went 1-2-3 in the javelin, long jump, high jump, 100 meters, 800 meters and two-mile.

Senior Kerry Hagerty won the discus (89'6") and javelin (113'1") tosses, junior Stacey Lavoie both the 100-meter high (15.3) and 300-meter intermediate (49.1) hurdles, and sophomore Amanda Verreault the 400 meter dash (67.0) and high jump (4'8").

Other individual victors were senior shot putter and Captain Alex Wendt (27'3"), sophomore long jumper Rebecca Goldenberg (15'1"), sophomore triple jumper Evelyn Yang (32'2"), sophomore Carolyn Vallee who tied in the high jump (4'8"), freshman miler Erin Collins (6:15), sophomore Jamie Barron in the 100 meters (12.7), sophomore Amy Levesque in the 200 meters (26.8), junior Leigh Clarke in the 800 meters (2:42.2) and senior Captain Ellen Sullivan in the two-mile (12:59).

Miss Lavoie added a second in the long jump (14'9") and Miss Spiegel second in the 100 meters (13.8).

Other AHS runners-up were senior shot putter Bernadette Wajda (25'6"), sophomore Beth Cummings in the javelin (88'3"), freshman Liz Salvia in the triple jump (30'1"), sophomore Julie Rozopoulos in the 300 hurdles (53.1), freshman Kim Young in the 200 meters (29.9), senior Captain Jen Batts in the 400 meters (68.8), senior Tricia McNeice in the 800 meters (2:46.6), junior miler Kelly Cronin (6:30) and Madhavi Reddy in the deuce (13:50).

Completing the scorers in third place were freshman Katie Jurdi in the javelin (76'5"), Jamie Barron in the long jump (14'7"), senior high jumper Lisa Perdigo (4'6"), freshman Carol Cunningham in the 100 hurdles (17.0), Melissa Gould in the 100 meters (13.9), freshman Kara Burbank in the 800 meters (2:52) and junior Amanda Grasso in the two-mile (14:05).

Andover boys, 109-36

The Golden Warriors placed first in 14 of the 17 events, with Steve Shepard the lone multiple winner against Wilmington.

Sweeps were recorded in the discus, long jump, triple jump, high jump and pole vault, as Andover finished with a huge 57-6 edge in the seven field events.

Shepard placed first in the triple jump (40'5"), 100 meter dash (11.1) and 200 meter dash (22.8), edging his old nemesis Dan Balou in the latter race.

Other individual victors were senior shot putter Bryan Adams (44'5"), junior Rob Lane in the discus (126'2"), senior Alan Guibord in the javelin (139'6"), senior Jon Hess in the long jump (19'8"), sophomore Jon Hall in the high jump (5'6"), Dan Wrigley in the pole vault (11'0"), Dave Jorgenson in the 110-meter hurdles (15.6), Jon Cirella in the 300-meter hurdles (42.5), Colin Arsenault in the 800 meters (2:08.7) and Brian Twomey in the two-mile (10:35).

The locals also captured the 4x100 sprint relay in 47.3, the team consisting of freshman Josh Hatch, Brian Croteau, senior Peter Murphy and senior Rod Lumley.

Junior Phil Smith finished second in the discus (119'6") and third in the shot put (38'10"), while senior Eric Fox was second in the 110 hurdles (16.5) and third in the 300 hurdles (45.5).

Other runners-up were Croteau in the long jump (18'11"), Hess in the triple jump (40'2"), Jorgenson in the high jump (5'6"), Steve Kulcsar in the pole vault (9'6"), junior Max Dawson in the mile (4:57), Matt Ely in the 400 meters (54.5), Mark Adams in the 800 meters (2:13) and freshman Charlie Russo in the deuce (10:51).

Eric Thompson earned two third-place finishes in the long jump (18'6") and triple jump (39'1"), while other Andover thirds were secured by senior Adam Goddess in the discus (114'8"), senior high jumper Mike O'Sullivan (5'4"), senior pole vaulter Todd Taylor (9'0"), Rod Lumley in the 100 meters (11.4) and sophomore miler Kevin Shepard (5:06).

PA dedicates baseball field to alumni

Phillips Academy will dedicate its refurbished baseball facility on May 1 to Richard J. Phelps.

Mr. Phelps is an alumni of Phillips, a former pitcher for the baseball team and a major contributor to the school. A gift he gave four years ago helped re-do the tennis courts and establish scholarships, among other things.

A portion of his donation was allocated for the improvement of the baseball field, which now boasts dugouts, an irrigation and drainage system and new turf.

Before a doubleheader against arch-rival Exeter, a small ceremony will be held to rename the field Phelps Park and Mr. Phelps will throw out the first ball.

He is an avid supporter of baseball, not only on the high school level, but nationally, and worldwide. He owns the Stockton Ports, an AAA team in California that is a farm team for the Milwaukee and he has helped bring baseball to Australia where he owns the Brisbane Bandits.

AHS baseball team readies itself to play Billerica

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High baseball team hoped to get an accurate reading on its chances for a third consecutive Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division championship this week, as the Warriors were scheduled to face perennial title challenger Billerica.

The Indians, who produced major leaguers Tom Glavine (Cy Young winner with Atlanta Braves) and Gary DiSarcina (California Angels shortstop), were 4-1 through last weekend's action and are expected to give Coach Ken Maglio's crew a strong run for the pennant.

The game was originally scheduled for last Monday, but rain forced postponement and a switch to Tuesday afternoon.

The Warriors remained undefeated, 4-0 overall, following a second blowout of Haverhill (11-0) and a lesson in survival against Wilmington (5-3) last week.

"Haverhill's a good team but they just didn't seem to play inspired ball against us," said Coach Maglio, whose club outscored the Hillies 21-1 in consecutive games.

"We didn't play particularly well against Wilmington. There were a couple of peculiar calls that went against us, but Scott Eggert's pitching was outstanding and that was the key."

The Golden Warriors were also scheduled to play at Dracut yesterday, and now enjoy a brief "homeland" as they host Chelmsford tomorrow afternoon, Tewksbury on Monday and traditional nemesis Lowell next Wednesday (all 3:30 p.m. games).

Pro scouts eye Hesenius

A number of professional scouts, including former Andover resident and Central Catholic graduate Bob Rikeman, were at the Haverhill game with their "Jugs guns" to watch Justin Hesenius pitch.

The ace gave them an eyeful with his shutout hurling. His fastball was clocked at 85 m.p.h. and the sharp-breaking curve at 75 m.p.h.

"Justin knew Rikeman would be there, but I didn't tell him about the other guys," said Coach Maglio. "I think I was more nervous than Justin, but he did an excellent job."

Injury report

The problem may have occurred while making a throw from center field against Haverhill.

Murray, who requires considerable time between lengthy pitching assignments, iced the arm that night and saw a doctor the following day.

"It seems to be an injury to the muscle underneath the arm," explained Coach Maglio. "It should cure itself with rest."

There was also a brief scare against

Statistics

After the first four games, top batting averages among the regular players belonged to Toby Guzowski (.400, 4-10), Bob Daley and Ben Russell (both .385, 5-13), Scott Henry (.364, 4-11) and Matt Wolcott (.333, 3-9).

Guzowski, Wolcott and Justin Hesenius led in runs scored with five, Guzowski and Daley in RBI with six and four respectively, and Josh Nelken in stolen bases with six.

Hesenius and Scott Eggert were both 2-0 on the mound.

In eight innings Hesenius had allowed just four hits, fanned 13 and hadn't permitted a run. In 10 innings Eggert had surrendered five hits, struck out 12 and owned an ERA of 0.68.

Andover, 11-0

Senior righthanders Justin Hesenius (2-0) and Scott Henry combined for a four-hit shutout, as the Golden Warriors made it back-to-back romps over the Hillies with this lopsided triumph at Haverhill Stadium.

Andover had also thrashed Haverhill 10-1 in the Ted Boudreau Memorial Tournament championship game.

Hesenius, justifiably touted as one of the top high school hurlers in the state, checked the home team on three hits over the first five innings.

The talented all-around player, who will attend Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida next fall, struck out eight and walked three.

Henry preserved the Warriors' second shutout of the young season with two frames of one-hit relief, fanning two and walking none.

The locals did most of their damage early, taking a 9-0 lead in the third inning and adding single runs in the fourth and fifth.

Hesenius, who established a school record last year with seven triples, belted a three-bagger and scored when the relay throw to third base was wild.

Daley rapped a two-out single, Steve Marchlik walked, Henry walked to load the bases, Nelken slapped a two-run single, and the final run of the inning crossed on a passed ball.

In the AHS fourth Wolcott was hit by a pitch and eventually scored on Guzowski's infield out.

Bob Daley finished the game a perfect 3-for-3, almost hitting for the cycle with a single, double and triple.

Josh Nelken added two safeties to the 10-hit assault, Toby Guzowski collected four RBI, and junior Jeff Lembo contributed a single.

Andover, 5-3

The Warriors first "non-blowout" came against visiting Wilmington, a team that won 32 games the past two years, battled deep into the Eastern Mass. Division 2 Tournament both seasons, and was 2-0 before this game.

The weather was cold and damp, with the first two innings played in a steady rain.

AHS starter Todd Murray departed after one inning with an arm injury.

Senior lefthander Scott Eggert (2-0) worked six innings in relief, scattering five hits while yielding two runs (one unearned), walking one and striking out seven.

Rob Beals walked and crossed on Mike Alonardo's one-out double to give Wilmington an early 1-0 edge.

Andover tied it in the bottom of the first after leadoff walks to Josh Nelken and Paul Allard. Matt Wolcott then bounced into an unusual fielder's choice double play, with Allard nailed at second and Nelken thrown out at home. Wolcott ended up at third, however, and raced across when Justin Hesenius beat out an infield hit.

The Warriors went ahead 2-1 with a tainted run in the second. Jeff Lembo looped a two-out single to right field, stole second, went to third when the catcher's throw sailed into center, and scored on the same play when the center fielder's throw missed both the cutoff man and infielder.

Scott Henry followed with a single, stole second, took third on a wild pitch but was left stranded.

The Wildcats tied it 2-2 with an unearned run in the top of the third, becoming the first team in four games to score more than once against Andover. Tom Aprile lashed a leadoff single, raced to third on an infield out, and continued home when the throw across the diamond went wild.

Wolcott drew a one out walk, took second on a balk, and scored when Toby Guzowski's routine two-out flyball was misplayed. Ben Russell walked, Bob Daley singled home Guzowski, and Russell scored on a passed ball.

Relief pitcher Alonardo handcuffed the Warriors on a pair of harmless infield hits over the final three innings, but the damage had been done.

In the fifth Darryl Grant singled and scored the final Cats' run on Kevin MacArthur's one-out double to left.

Eggert breezed through the sixth and seventh, yielding only a two-out infield single in the seventh.

The Warriors made two spectacular late-inning defensive plays behind Eggert. Shortstop Josh Nelken saved a run with an inning-ending face-in-the-dirt catch, and center fielder Scott Henry capped a 1-2-3 sixth with a diving stab of a sinking liner.

Henry led the offense with two of Andover's six hits, all of which were singles including three infield rollers.

Other Andover baseball talents are scattered around area

By Rick Harrison

The baseball talent in Andover appears limitless, as documented by the successes of the high school varsity team (consecutive Division 1 state championships), the Major Little Leaguers (World Series participants in 1988) and the 13-year-old Little Leaguers (Eastern Regional finalists last summer).

Andover High has more than enough talent to go around, but there are numerous other excellent players from this town scattered at area schools.

Infielders Todd Harris and Brian Flanagan were both members of the LL World Series team, and they are joined by outfielder Mike Sullivan and pitcher-infielders Gus Quattlebaum and Mike Famiglietti.

Last weekend, in a doubleheader sweep of visiting Northfield-Mt. Hermon, Famiglietti was the winning pitcher in the 7-5 opener and Quattlebaum in the 5-3 nightcap.

Todd Harris had two hits, two RBI and Quattlebaum two hits to led the first-game attack. Quattlebaum scattered seven hits and didn't walk a batter en route to his mound triumph.

Phillips, which entered the week at 3-1 overall, also dropped a tough 7-

Former catcher attends Brown

By Rick Harrison

Matt Daniels, the outstanding catcher on Andover High's state Division 1 championship baseball team last year, will attend Brown University in the fall.

Daniels, who also plays football (quarterback-linebacker), will concentrate on baseball at the Ivy League school in Providence, R.I.

Matt has spent the current school year as a post-graduate student at Phillips Exeter Academy, where he has played football, baseball and earned high honors scholastically the past two terms.

His younger brother Peter, a sophomore on Andover High, is also a football-baseball player currently on the Andover High junior varsity baseball team.

Sister Amy is a fine athlete as well, but is presently on the shelf with a knee injury suffered last year.

Cedardale offers day camp scholarships

Cedardale Athletic Club of Haverhill is offering scholarships to their Cedarland Fitness 'n' Fun Summer Day Camp. The club will award three scholarships; one to each of the following categories: first and second graders, third and fourth graders, and fifth and sixth graders.

Winners will be selected based on the best coloring piece for the younger two categories and the best essay for the older category. Scholarship recipients will receive one free camp session (each session is two weeks in duration) to Cedarland Fitness 'n' Fun Camp. All entries must be received by Cedardale Athletic Club on or before May 14. Winners will be announced May 21.

Cedarland Fitness 'n' Fun Camp is open to children between 4 and 12 years old. The goal of the camp is to improve a child's fitness and confidence through participation in a variety of fun programs and activities. Campers follow a daily schedule of instructional and recreational programs such as swimming lessons, boating skills and more.

For information on the scholarship program and/or Cedarland Fitness 'n' Fun Camp, call Beth Bannister or Diane Bolivar, Cedardale Athletic Club, at 373-1596.

Non-league win highlights Lady Warriors' week on softball field

Vanessa Blank worked the first three innings on the mound, yielding two runs although permitting no hits, walking two and whiffing three.

"I wanted to get Vanessa some work, and also move people around defensively," explained Coach Pellerin. "Lindsey played third base, Sharon Su and Gina Paone were in the outfield and April Cannif went behind the plate."

Lindsey Sweeney relieved Miss Blank in the fourth and scattered five Scarlet Knight safeties over the final four innings. She walked just one and struck out two en route to her second victory of the season.

AHS spotted the visitors a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but scored twice in the home half to take the lead for good. Sharon Su, Eileen Sweeney and Vanessa Blank drew walks to load the bases, a wild pitch plated the tying run and Rachel Buonopane's bunt brought in the go-ahead tally.

The lead went to 4-1 in the second stanza after a one-out walk to Miss Cannif, a two-out walk to Eileen Sweeney, an error on Lindsey Sweeney's grounder and a passed ball.

In the fourth Amy Cassidy walked, April Cannif belted a run-scoring double to right field, Lindsey Sweeney singled, and both Cannif and Sweeney stole home to make it 7-2.

Miss Cannif opened the fifth with a triple, Sharon Su rapped an RBI single, Eileen Sweeney singled, and Miss Su crossed on Lindsey Sweeney's infield out.

The final Andover tally came in the sixth as Gina Paone singled, junior Andrea Marino singled, and freshman Meghan Lynch lofted a sacrifice fly.

Defensive standouts were Rachel Buonopane at first base and Captain Amy Cassidy at shortstop.

Methuen, 4-3 (8 innings)

Lindsey Sweeney's top pitching effort thus far was wasted, as the host Rangers overcame a 3-0 deficit with four unearned runs in the final three innings.

Miss Sweeney tossed a three-hitter, striking out six and walking just one, but Methuen pushed across one run in the sixth, two to tie it in the seventh, and the game-winner in the bottom of the eighth.

The Lady Warriors broke a scoreless tie in the fourth on a one-out triple to center field by Vanessa Blank, an RBI single by Gina Paone, a bunt single by Eileen Sweeney, and a Methuen miscue on Suzanne Doucette's grounder.

Lindsey Sweeney made it 3-0 in the fifth by hammering a solo home run to center.

The roof began to collapse in the sixth, however, when a three-base outfield error set up the first Methuen run. In the seventh two singles and a pair of errors enabled the Rangers to pull even, and the clincher came home after another three-base error and sacrifice fly.

Eileen Sweeney led the eight-hit AHS attack with 3-for-4, Lindsey Sweeney had two hits and singles were contributed by Sharon Su, Amy Cassidy and Rachel Buonopane.

Defensively the keystone combo of shortstop Cassidy and second baseman Eileen Sweeney was again sharp. Tewksbury, 9-4 Still smarting from the heartbreaking loss to Methuen, the Lady Warriors committed seven errors and fell behind 7-0 in the fifth.

'Lindsey was morose. We committed three errors right off the bat and everyone was just waiting for things to go wrong.'

Coach Pellerin referring to the game against Tewksbury

Lindsey Sweeney went the route on the mound, allowing seven hits while fanning five and walking three.

"Lindsey was morose," said Coach Pellerin. "We committed three errors right off the bat and everyone was just waiting for things to go wrong."

Andover hung in for awhile, however, trailing just 2-0 until the Redgards broke it open with five runs in the top of the fifth at the West Middle School field.

AHS notched two runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Gina Paone's two-out single in the fifth was followed by an error on Rachel Buonopane's grounder, a passed ball and a pinch-hit RBI single by junior Mindy Fox.

In the sixth Lindsey Sweeney was safe on a two-base outfield error, and run-scoring singles were spanked by Vanessa Blank and Andrea Marino.

Andover JVs, freshmen

The Andover junior varsity squad was 2-4 after six games, with top performers for Coach Sandy Lunt's squad including pitchers Marcy Ruda and Jenn Thompson, shortstop Millie Dominguez and Roberta Paone.

Baseball talent from Andover is scattered around

6 decision to the Harvard JVs last week.

Center fielder Sullivan, batting leadoff, had two hits along with Quattlebaum and second baseman Flanagan.

safely apiece, accounting for eight of the 10 PA hits.

Quattlebaum and Flanagan collected RBI, and runs were scored by Sullivan, Harris, Flanagan and Quattlebaum (two).

At Austin Prep in Reading, Mike Mano is hitting close to .400 and left-hander Ryan Jacobson has done

Tourney set

Cedardale Athletic Club in Haverhill will host a men's 45+ basketball tournament May 7-8. All players must turn 45 by Dec. 31.

Interested players or teams should call Greg Herbert or Bob McGrath at Cedardale.

Jason Ebacher

Jason Ebacher played college basketball

Jason Ebacher of 51 Woodland Road played on the Dean Junior College basketball team that ended the season with a 19-8 record.

St. A's basketball team made championship round

The St. Augustine's fifth grade basketball team took a 7-2 record, the best in the regular season, into the playoffs of the Lawrence Boy's Club Inter-City League. After a bye in the first round, they defeated a powerful

Salem, N.H., team to enter the championship game with St. Joseph's, also of Salem. A seven-point run cut the St. Joseph's lead to 21-20 with two seconds on the clock. Sean Thomann fired the in-bounds pass to just beyond half court where Brendan Sullivan caught it and launched a shot on target that just fell short grazing the net. Paul "P.J." Bellacqua received the leagues' Most Valuable Player Award.

YOUTH SOCCER

Andover Chargers 7 - Georgetown 0

The Chargers opened the season with a 7-0 win over Georgetown. Abby Harris and Shannon Lee had two goals, and Jen Prudden, Randi Spiegel and Meghan Lynch had one each. Hannah Pfeifle and Lee had two assists each while Spiegel and Shira Hermosa had one each. The defense of Ashley Nowell, Christine Contos, Susan Ashlock and Beth Murphy allowed only two shots on goal.

Georgetown Wildcats 1

Andover Breakers 0

Despite being one player short, Andover outplayed Georgetown during the first half. Three minutes into the second half, Georgetown scored on a deflected crossing pass.

Booster of the week: Courtney Nugent, Amy Hayner, Amy DiDomenico and Nicole Brooks.

Andover Lions 1 - Peabody Tanners 1

The Tanners scored first with a winded corner kick that eluded the goalie's grasp. Despite the heavy wind in their faces, the Lions played Peabody even the rest of the half. The Lions' goal came three minutes into the second half when Matt Wessler finished a combination play with Roger Foltz and Dan Kulp. Strong midfield play from Jed Wartman, David Holmes and Shaun Connors kept pressure on. Scott MacDonald, Andy Baron and Drew Maletz turned in a solid defensive game.

BOW: Rob Busby and Peter Ellis.

Under 12 Division

Chili 3 - Australia 1

The wind was a major factor as Chili prevailed on goals by Ryan Nelson, Jeff Olender and Ryan Slavin. Jordan Klein was credited with two assists. Ted Deinnocentis scored for Australia with Mike Murphy picking up the assist.

BOW: Bryan Welch, Ryan Hanna and Niall Doyle (Chili); Brad Demont, Nathan Dziadul and Brian Anderson (Australia).

Italy 1 - Brazil 0

Argentina 8 - Peru 1

Argentina's goals were scored by Evan Tellos, John D'Ambrosio, Scott Mackin, Adrian Purdy, Jeremy Spiegel and Hemant Joshi. Jimmy Noonan was credited with an assist.

BOW: Gary Nicholson, Josh Garick and S. Papadopoulos (Argentina); Jamie Farrah, Stas Cannon and Tim Witt (Peru).

Andover Lasers 4 - Merrimac 0

LA Gears 3 - Reeboks 0

Judy Huang's goal opened the scoring in the first quarter with an assist from Jill Nathan. Sarah Lochmann scored from a pass by Laura Perkins in the second quarter and Kristin Sweeney closed the scoring from Judy Huang.

BOW: Maureen Meulen, Monica Everett and Katie McGrath (LA Gears); Nicole Menschel, Erica Tebbetts and Lindsey Pearson (Reeboks).

Mitres 2 - Nikes 0

Michelle Carpentier scored an unassisted goal in the second quarter. Adrienne Ciampa scored the final goal in the third quarter from a pass by Christine Lentz.

BOW: Morgan Jacobson, Jessica Hyman and Liz Tung (Mitres); Jenny

Hsu, Siobhan Landry and Zoe Hastings (Nikes).

Sambas 1 - Avias 0

Lesley Ring scored an unassisted goal in the first quarter for the win.

BOW: Michele Leary, Katie McKain and Laurie Willey (Sambas); Laura Schrader, Kristen Foley and Andrea Martin (Avias).

Under 10 Division

Jaguars 3 - Pumas 1

The Jaguars and Pumas maintained a constant running game as each team sought to bring the ball downfield. The Pumas scored the first goal of the game. Excellent goaltending kept the Jaguars scoreless for the first half. Amy Herlihy poured on the power to score twice in the third quarter, once with assists from Jennifer Ataide and Tracy Pelletier. The final Jaguar goal came in the fourth quarter when Tracy Pelletier passed to Kaitlin Hyde who kicked the goal. Great goaltending by Alexandra Johnston kept the Pumas from scoring again.

BOW: Kaitlin Carney and Jamie Huston.

Leopards 1 - Ocelots 2

The Ocelots dominated the game, but Katie Witman kept the Leopards from being shut out with a last-minute fourth-quarter goal.

RECYCLING

By Virginia Cole

This is your spring update for your recycling options. Andover's drop-off site for recyclables continues to be at the West Middle School parking lot on Shawsheen Road. It is always the third Saturday of the month - May 15 is the next - from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Materials left before and after these times make the collection very difficult. Personnel helping are volunteers and should not be expected to pick up and sort your recyclables for you. If these limited times are really a problem, you will have to let the authorities know. They are at town offices. Plastic containers with a 1 or 2 on the bottom will be accepted. These are generally milk, juice and water containers, soda and liquor bottles, peanut butter, salad and cooking oil containers. There is no market for number 5s or 6s. Therefore they are not collected.

These plastics should be rinsed and flattened for your own convenience as well as that of the contractor. These things are bulky and often must be stored. All aluminum is accepted at this site. This includes aluminum cans, foil, pots and pans, window and chair frames. And the new recyclable (as of Jan. 1, 1993) is metal cans. Yes, the ones from the grocery store that contained soup, vegetables, fruits, juices, cookie tins, large tin containers, as for instance olive oil, and all food containers. Metal lids from glass jars can be included here but do not bring metal containers for furniture polish or paint or anything that was not a foodstuff. Please rinse and flat-

In the blue bin every other week, at curbside (see your recycling calendar for your week), put all glass bottles and jars. Of course, soft drink bottles can be returned to the stores for a refund. If you do not want to bother with refunds, put all glass bottles and jars in the bin. This includes canning jars as long as there is no metal attached. They do not have to have labels removed. Do not include metal lids. Please rinse these, particularly mayonnaise and cat-sup bottles.

Newspapers and magazines go in or on top of the Blue Bin, too. They must be in grocery bags or tied. This is so they don't blow around your neighborhood when the bin is dumped. There are many items that come in the mail, while not actually magazines, that can be classified as such: catalogs, sales brochures, etc. They can be included in paper recycling.

Button or rechargeable batteries should be placed in a sealed plastic bag and put beside the Blue Bin. Button batteries can still be recycled at stores and public buildings as listed in your schedule.

Leaves and grass clippings will not be picked up by the trash contractor. If you have not found a spot in your own yard to compost, the town has provided a compost site on High Plain Road across from the Harold Parker AVIS Reservation. There is parking off the street and it is open year around for walk-in dumping. It will be open in the fall for drive-in. You may also help yourself to bags (bring your own) of compost for your flower beds or gardens.

If I haven't mentioned it, the other things you want to get rid of must go in the trash. Latex paint cans can go in the trash and most other cleaning supplies.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Diane, Richard, Regina, Mike and Stefanie
Ellie's Arabic and American Food

Ellie's Arabic and American Food is a wonderfully warm and friendly family restaurant located on S. Broadway in Lawrence, one block from St. Patrick's Church. Owner Regina Ragonese has remodeled the interior and its warm wood paneling and cheerful lighting make it very homey and welcoming. The excellent wait-staff is dedicated to providing the best service to their customers.

Ellie's has become so popular and has developed so many regular customers, that Regina has already begun the work to expand the restaurant into the other side of the building. This expansion, which she hopes to have finished by July, will allow for smoking and non-smoking sections, a bar and take-out order area, freeing more space in the main dining room.

The excellent food at Ellie's Arabic and American Food is complemented by the courteous service. The menu is wide-ranging, but still specializes in the best of Arabic and American food. The wonderful Syrian lamb dishes and the Syrian platter with a selection of different dishes are still available, but so are dishes which reflect Regina's taste, such as baked scallops and chicken and vegetable kebab. Desserts at range from baklava "to die for" to Regina's special Reese's Pieces chocolate chip pie. Ellie's also has a full liquor license.

Treat Mom to a special Mother's Day dinner at Ellie's Arabic and American Food. Regina and the staff have planned some great specials, including their famous lobster pie, baked stuffed pork chops, braised lamb shank and surf and turf (baked haddock or scallops served with chicken, pork, lamb or tenderloin on a skewer). The entrees will be accompanied by soup, salad, potato and choice of dessert. Ellie's also has children's menu available.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Ellie's offers dinner-for-two specials that range in price between $11.95 to $14.95. Everything on Ellie's menu is available for takeout and gift certificates are also available.

White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company

Good old fashion customer service is the hallmark of White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company. Ira Gold is the third generation of his family to serve the Greater Lawrence community at the store. The original store, at 19 White St. in Lawrence, was started by Meyer Steinberg in 1948. Bernard and Cynthia Gold, Meyer's son-in-law and daughter, now own the store which, though located at 15 Broadway in Lawrence, retains its White Street name.

White Street Paint is the largest paint and wallpaper store in the area with 9,000-square-feet of display and storage space. They are a full line dealer of Benjamin Moore Paints and also carry California Paints, Wilber and Williams paints, Cabot stains and their newest line, Sikkens paint.

With an in-store computer which can match paints to your wallpaper or drapery fabric, lots of in-stock wallpaper as well as sample books from Kinney, Schumacher, Bowen, Laura Ashley, Albert Van Luit and Katzenbach-Warren and many more, White Street Paint and Wallpaper can meet your decorating needs as well. There is a wallpaper consultant on staff to answer your questions and help with your decisions. She will even make house calls to help with your decorating projects.

White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company has 44 years of customer service behind their reputation. This dedication to meeting the customers' needs by custom mixing paints, ordering wallpaper and fabrics and by delivering the order, earns them many referrals, both customer to customer and contractor to customer. If spring refurbishing is on your schedule, be sure to stop by White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company and discover for yourself how nice old fashion customer service can feel.

For customer convenience, White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company now offers delivery service to customers in the Merrimack Valley. White Street Paint and Wallpaper Company is located at 15 Broadway (corner of Essex Street) in Lawrence. Telephone: (508) 688-6078 or (508) 683-8694. Hours: Monday-Wednesday-Thursday 7-5, Tuesday & Friday 7-6 and Sat. 8-4.

Joel Steinberg and Steve Martin of Frames Unlimited

Frames Unlimited: Merrimack Valley's Complete Frame Shop

Frames Unlimited has the perfect frame for you. From standard read-made frames to a custom-framed mirror, they can suit your every framing need. Joel Steinberg and Steve Martin have just returned from the "Frame-O Rama" Trade show in New York City, where they learned the latest developments in conservation framing as well as today's newest techniques in framing. They also returned with truckloads of the most popular new mouldings.

The recent retirement of Larry Bird has kept Joel and Steve very busy framing Bird memorabilia such as shirts and posters and even the Wheaties cereal boxes. These have all turned out as wonderful wallhangings and are also future collector's items.

Frames Unlimited is looking forward to a busy summer framing posters from the Boston Marathon, wedding photos, graduation photos and diplomas and vacation souvenirs. Don't forget to bring in those old family photos for framing as a surprise gift for Mother's or Father's Day. A gift certificate makes a wonderful gift as well.

If you are looking for a special mirror for the bathroom or hallway, stop in to Frames Unlimited, pick your favorite style of frame and they will have it ready in no time at all. They also invite you to browse through their catalog offering for print and poster ideas.

Jon Butt of the Mail Room

The Mail Room

Spring is a busy season with many celebrations which you may want to remember with a gift. The Mail Room will take on the task of wrapping, packing and shipping the gifts that you have chosen for Mother's Day, graduation, weddings or showers, no matter the size or shape. What used to be an arduous and time-consuming task, becomes an easy and uncomplicated experience. A festive selection of gift wraps are available as well as a wide range of box sizes and owner Chris O'Keefe will pay special attention to each package to ensure that it is wrapped and packed with expert care.

If you need to ship a parcel overnight, under a deadline, across the ocean or through the air, be sure to bring it to the Mail Room and Chris will tell you the most economical way to ship. UPS has closed its local facility and the Mail Room is now an authorized UPS shipping outlet. The staff at the Mail Room is always available to give advice on shipping and mail services and willingly supplies price quotations. The Mail Room offers many special services to accommodate the small businesses in the area. Secretarial and word processing services are available as well as a Toshiba copier capable of reducing and enlarging. They will also maintain mailing lists and handle large mailings. The Fax prices at the Mail Room are still the best in the area and they will be sure to send documents the fastest and least expensive way when time is of importance. Private postal boxes offer the convenience of call-in service and receiving packages, as well as a prestigious address with its own suite number. Notary public service is also available. By using the services of the Mail Room, the small business can have up-to-date electronic equipment at their disposal without the costly overhead.

The friendly atmosphere and courteous service provided by Chris O'Keefe and Jon Butt keeps the Mail Room busy. Some days it seems that most of Andover passes through the doors and you're sure to meet a friend or two availing themselves of the many services offered by the Mail Room.

The Mail Room is located at 9 Bartlett St., Andover. Parking is available at the door. Hours are M-F 8:30-5:30 and Sat. 9-1.

Youth charged with assault on an elder

By Don Staruk

A 17-year-old Andover youth was arrested Tuesday morning and charged with breaking into an elderly resident's house on Chestnut Court, assaulting her and stealing her purse Monday night. He also was charged with taking a charity coin canister from Christy's Market on Railroad Street early Tuesday morning.

Anthony Whitcomb, 17, of 59 Memorial Circle, was arraigned in Lawrence District Court Tuesday afternoon on charges of burglary and assault in a dwelling, unarmed robbery of a victim over 65 years old and assault and battery. He also was charged with larceny under $250 and trespassing, for the Christy's theft, and was ordered held at Middleton Jail on $10,000 cash bail.

Mr. Whitcomb admitted to committing both offenses because he was trying to get money to buy crack cocaine, according to Detective James Haggerty.

According to police, Esther Donahue, 81, of 34 Chestnut Court, answered her door at about 10:20 Monday night. She looked out a window and saw a young man, whom she later identified from photos as Mr. Whitcomb, standing outside and asked what he wanted. He mumbled something, but she couldn't hear him, so she opened the door "a few inches."

The suspect asked if he could use the phone and Ms. Donahue refused, at which point he allegedly pushed his way through the door, grabbed her purse and fled. Ms. Donahue ran next door to a neighbor's house and called police.

Ms. Donahue suffered four broken fingernails on one hand in the incident, according to Detective Haggerty.

"She was very upset and nervous about the whole thing," he said.

Police found a black Boston Bruins cap, the assailant had allegedly been wearing, on the ground outside the house, which led them to suspect Mr. Whitcomb, who was known to them and who had been seen wearing a similar hat about 40 minutes prior to the break.

Then at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, about three hours after the purse theft, Officer Lee Britton responded to a call from an employee at Christy's Market who reported a youth fitting the same description was suspected to have taken a charitable coin container from the store. But it wasn't until Officer Britton had gone off duty and was headed home that he located the suspect.

Officer Britton stopped in Shawsheen Plaza on his way home at about 9:30 a.m. and spotted Mr. Whitcomb through the window of Shawmut Bank rolling coins at a desk. He called for backup and detectives James Haggerty and Kevin Burke responded and found Mr. Whitcomb rolling about $22 worth of coins, the same amount and types as were listed as missing from the charitable canister, including half dollars.

After questioning, Mr. Whitcomb admitted his involvement in both crimes. "He brought us to where he hid the purse," Detective Haggerty said.

The purse was recovered intact except for $12 cash.

Mr. Whitcomb allegedly went to Lawrence twice on the night of the incidents to buy crack cocaine, according to Detective Haggerty.

"He admitted that he's screwed up on the crack and that's why he's been going out and doing all this stuff."

The detective said Mr. Whitcomb admitted to using crack for a short period of time when he was picked up a couple of weeks ago and that he spent two weeks in a drug rehabilitation program and has only been out a few days.

"He's really having the stuff get a hold of him," Detective Haggerty said.

Mr. Whitcomb was arrested by Andover police in January and charged on a warrant for larceny and shoplifting, and more recently on April 12, when detectives picked him up on a warrant for a parole violation.

Mr. Whitcomb faces a maximum penalty of life in prison on the charges because they involve a crime against an elderly person, Detective Haggerty said.

Pot-bellied pig produces pierce in PA student

with the town's animal control officer after Charlie, who was a participant on stage at a PA play, "nipped" the hand of a student feeding him, she said.

"It was really blown out of proportion," said Ms. Johnston, who bought Charlie, who is now 18 inches high, 26 inches long and weighs about 70 pounds, from a New Hampshire breeder when he was 10 weeks old.

"The kids asked me if Charlie could be in their play and I said OK. I thought he might be a little nervous on stage with all the activity so I gave the actor some rice cakes and told him to feed them to Charlie to keep him happy.

"During the fourth performance, the actor became a little distracted and wasn't feeding Charlie the broken-up rice cakes. I guess Charlie decided to take the food from the boy's hand. We didn't even know he got scratched. The boy didn't tell anyone," she said.

Ms. Johnston said she later received a call from the PA nurse who notified her the boy's finger got scratched by Charlie's teeth. The nurse the town, said he investigated the incident. He said this is the only case of a pig bite that he knows of.

"It didn't appear to be an aggressive attack," said Mr. Nader. "It's something that had to be investigated but it wasn't anything like a wild pig running loose."

According to Ms. Johnston, owners of domestic pigs are not required by law to have their pets vaccinated against rabies.

Mr. Penney said the town does allow residents to keep pigs as pets and Ms. Johnston and the few other people in town who keep domesticated pig are not in violation of any laws.

According to town officials, residents do not need permits to keep pigs as pets. Residents only need permits to keep pigs as livestock.

"It's really a shame. Charlie has never bitten anyone," said Ms. Johnston.

"It's things like this, when people don't understand the whole story, that pigs get a bad reputation. Charlies is really a great pet," she said.

Ms. Johnston said pot-bellied pigs are "very smart and easily trained."

"I don't really follow through with his training as much as I should. He doesn't know as much as he could," she said.

'It didn't appear to be an aggressive attack. It's something that had to be investigated but it wasn't anything like a wild pig running loose.'

also notified the town's animal officer and the health director.

Everett Penney, the town's health director, said he spoke with the veterinarian the town has on retainer, Dr. Richard Lindsay, and neither one are concerned that there are any health risks in the incident.

"Because it is a domesticated pig and it doesn't go outside unsupervised like cats and even dogs do, the chance that it was ever exposed to rabies is very minimal," Mr. Penney said.

Dr. Lindsay told the Townsmen that he is not concerned that there are health risks in this case.

Coffee house broken into, robbed

By Don Staruk

R & R Coffee House, at 100 School St., was broken into Monday night or Tuesday morning and a thief made off with a cash register and about $70.

Police are not sure if the break is related to an assault and theft on Chestnut Court and a theft from Christy's Market the same night. A suspect arrested Tuesday admitted to those two crimes, according to police. The suspect has not been charged with, or admitted to knowing anything about, the break into the coffee house.

Coffee house owner Walter Pitts said the thief broke in through a rear window and took only the new Royal electronic cash register and the $70 cash that was in it. The thief did not take a tip jar containing about $15 that was next to the register, or the stereo system.

LEGAL NOTICES

DEPARTMENT OF THE TRIAL COURT
42697 Reg.

To the Town of Andover, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Essex, and said Commonwealth: James L. Sheldon, Shirley A. Veenema, Mabel H. Mottolo and Anthony Mottolo, Trustees of Mabel H. Mottolo Realty Trust, David H. Gould, Robert T. Demers, Barbara A. Demers, Laura J. Ahern, Thomas A. Froburg, Robin Froburg, Mario Grosser and Silva Grosser, all of said Andover; Andover Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in said Andover; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Alfred Tallini and Lucille Tallini, both of said Andover, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Andover, bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Marland Street, 113.00 feet;
Southwesterly by land now or formerly of James L. Sheldon and Shirley A. Veenema, 131.93 feet;
Westerly by Center Street, 71.02 feet;
and

Northerly, Westerly and Northerly by land now or formerly of Anthony Mottolo and Mabel H. Mottolo, Trustees of Mabel H. Mottolo Realty Trust, 65.40 feet, 37.39 feet and 66.46 feet, respectively.
Shown as Lot A on a plan heretofore mentioned.

Petitioners deny the rights of all others in and over that portion of locus shown as How Street, a so-called paper street delineated by dotted line and seek to have the same eliminated.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lawrence in the County of Essex where a copy of the plan filed with said petition is deposited, on or before the twenty-fourth day of May next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, ROBERT V. CAUCHON, Chief Justice of said Court, this fifteenth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and ninety-three.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by JEFFREY A. LOCKE and BARBARA M. LOCKE to Northmark Bank and assigned to QUINCY SAVINGS BANK d/b/a Adams Bank Services, a duly existing corporation having a usual place of business in said Quincy, Massachusetts, dated September 18, 1990, recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 3165, Page 84, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder by assignment for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 1:00 in the afternoon on Friday, May 21, 1993, said sale to take place on the premises hereinafter described situated in Andover, Essex County, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT DEPARTMENT OF THE TRIAL COURT 42698 Reg.

To the Town of Andover, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Essex, and said Commonwealth; Alfred Tallini, Lucille Tallini, Laura J. Ahern, David H. Gould, Robert D. Demers, Anthony Mottolo and Mabel Mottolo, both trustees of Mabel Mottolo Realty Trust and The Trustees of Phillips Academy, all of said Andover; Andover Bank, a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in said Andover, and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by James L. Sheldon and Shirley A. Veenema, both of said Andover, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Andover, bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Center Street, 79.00 feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Alfred Tallini and Lucille Tallini, 131.93 feet;

Easterly by Marland Street, 71.02 feet; and Southerly by land now or formerly of John D. Townsend, Jr. and Nancy K. Townsend, 131.98 feet.

The plaintiffs claim as appurtenant to the above-described land rights or easements as follows: With the benefit of an easement dated May 27, 1987 and recorded Middlesex North Registry of Deeds on June 1, 1987 as Instrument No. 17065.

Petitioners deny rights of all others in and over that portion of locus shown as Howe Street, a so-called paper street delineated by dotted lines and seek to have same eliminated.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lawrence in the County of Essex where a copy of the plan filed with said petition is deposited, on or before the thirty-first day of May next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, ROBERT V. CAUCHON, Chief Justice of said Court, this twenty-second day of April in the year nineteen hundred and ninety-three.

Court retires Patrolman Sunderland

By Don Staruk

Patrolman Fred Sunderland Jr., who has battled the town over his retirement status for the last five years, is off the town payroll this month after a decision by the Massachusetts Appeals Court on March 12.

"So he's retired again," Rod Smith, town accountant and member of Andover's retirement board, said last week.

Mr. Sunderland has filed an appeal with the state Supreme Judicial Court, asking that it review the most recent decision, he said last week. But Chief James Johnson said the town is planning to fill the position left vacant by Officer Sunderland's retirement.

"According to the town manager, yes, we will be filling it, probably around the end of July," the chief said Wednesday.

The chief said the town has been operating with 43 sworn officers since 1991, after being up to 50 before that. Three patrolmen were laid off, one lieutenant's position was not filled after a retirement and three patrolmen, including Mr. Sunderland, have been out on long-term disability.

Patrolman Frank Froburg and Sgt. Thomas Siopes remain out.

Officer Sunderland, 45, an 18-year veteran, left the police department in May of 1988 because of emotional stress, according to court documents. Neither he or the town has elaborated on the cause or symptoms of the stress, but Officer Sunderland has called it a "medical type of thing."

The gist of the five-year court battle has been whether Mr. Sunderland should receive 50 percent of his $35,000 salary for an involuntary ordinary disability pension, or 72 percent for an accidental disability. The most recent court decision was only to allow the town to retire Mr. Sunderland on an ordinary disability, as opposed to leaving him on the payroll, while a state medical panel rules on the type of disability he is due.

Neither side disputed the grounds of the case, "that the police officer was totally and permanently disabled from performing his duties as a police officer," according to a statement from Michael Gilman, the town's attorney in the case.

Mr. Sunderland has remained on the town payroll, receiving 100 percent of his salary tax free while the case has been hashed out in court. In light of the Appeals' Court decision last month, he has now been taken off the payroll and retired on the involuntary ordinary disability, according to Mr. Smith.

"This is a well-deserved victory, which does justice to the plain meaning of the statutes and the prudent public policy of allowing municipalities to involuntarily retire individuals who are otherwise incapable of working," Mr. Gilman said.

"The policy enunciated in the Appeals Court decision makes economic sense as well. Once a medical panel certifies that a police officer is permanently disabled and the sole issue becomes whether said employee's condition has been caused by or is proximately related to his work for the municipality, there is no good reason to require payment of full salary (100 percent tax free) when the highest pension he could receive via accidental disability is approximately 72 percent, and any difference in pension amounts could always be adjusted at a later date."

Mr. Sunderland said the decision will hurt police and firefighters. "This is an extremely adverse decision that affects every police officer and firefighter in the commonwealth," he said. "I absolutely am flabbergasted."

The decision allows towns to retire employees at a reduced pension for an indefinite length of time, possibly creating financial hardships for the employees, Mr. Sunderland said.

He currently is attending Massachusetts School of Law, located on Federal Street in West Andover. He is not sure what if any other compensation he is eligible for, and didn't say whether he has applied for any. "Maybe I can apply for Social Security; maybe welfare if that's what the town would like."

Brief history of the case

Summer of 1989 - The town retires him for an accidental disability at 72 percent of his $35,000 annual salary.

October, 1989 - A state medical panel reviewing his case for the Public Employees Retirement Administration (PERA) rules the stress is not job related and that Officer Sunderland should only receive ordinary disability pay, about 50 percent of his salary. Officer Sunderland appeals PERA's decision to the state Contributory Retirement Appeals Board (CRAB).

The Andover Contributory Retirement Board turns down the accidental disability and grants the involuntary ordinary disability, and removes him from the payroll.

Jan. 1990 - Officer Sunderland appeals the Andover Contributory Retirement Board's decision in Suffolk Superior Court, claiming he was not legally retired.

Dec. 1990 - Superior Court hears the case and rules that the officer could not be retired while an appeal challenging the type of retirement was pending before CRAB. Officer Sunderland was placed back on injured leave pay at 100 percent of his salary, tax free.

The town files an appeal with the Massachusetts Appeals Court.

May 1991 - CRAB finds that the medical panel that reviewed the case was "improperly constituted" (one of its three members was an intern) and calls for a new medical panel to review the case.

The town appeals to CRAB, asking CRAB to confirm the original medical panel decision that the emotional stress was not job related. The appeal also challenged the admission of evidence not previously introduced concerning causes of the permanent disability.

March, 1992 - The town loses the appeal and must wait for the new medical panel's decision. That decision is still pending.

March 12, 1993 - Massachusetts Appeals Court reverses the Superior Court's decision that Officer Sunderland was illegally retired, saying that "the whole statutory scheme does not require re-instatement of a police officer to his former position (or to injured leave status) when the only dispute that exists between the parties is whether the employee's permanent disability was causally related to employment, and NOT the existence of the permanent disability itself." The town subsequently retires Mr. Sunderland on an involuntary ordinary disability and removes him from the payroll.

Emily Perkins, age 42, of Foster Circle took second prize with this Italian street scene. She got a split-picture effect in this composition by lining up the stairway with pottery to the right of the vertical midline, and capturing the sun on the rocky outcropping in the background.

A crescent moon hovering over the handlebars of this bicycle at twilight was shot by Chris Sintros, 17, of Bellevue Road. He won third prize in the adult division for the shot.

Third prize in the children's division was won by Peter Gerstberger of Lancaster Place. Peter, who is 11 years old, applied an artful perspective to his shot of "The Mormon Tabernacle."

Augusta M. Dadiego, 27, of 24 Washington Ave. entitled this photo, taken earlier this year, "Gate to Heaven." The photograph was taken in West Parish Cemetery.

First place in the adult division (ages 13 and older) went to Nancy Webster, 14, of Punchard Avenue. Nancy attends Pike School.

Lauren Chabot of Willard Circle, age 12, won honorable mention, children's division, for her picture inside the hayloft of a barn.

Honorable mention in the adult division went to Stanton R. Boothby, 43, of North Andover for his "Andover After Dark" photo.

Life should be so simple.

Audi Leasing a car should be as easy as one, two, three, four. One - a low down payment, making it easier than ever to get into a sporty 1993 Audi 90S. Two - a low monthly payment, to help keep your money where it belongs, in your wallet. Three - a shorter term, giving you the freedom and flexibility you deserve. Four - no charge for all scheduled maintenance, covering everything from oil changes to wiper blades. Four great reasons that make this offer one of life's simplest pleasures. Audi

Children figured prominently in this year's photo submissions

Carol Viola of Cabot Road photographed a child whose toes are wiggling in the sand by a breakwater at the beach.

This young girl was the subject for an April 1991 black-and-white composition for Cara DeMarco, who lives on Franklin Avenue.

"First Smile" was captured forever by Tammy Urie of Kenilworth Street.

This little girl smelling the flowers was taken by Marie Gertz of Lucerne Drive. The black dots on her cheek are the mouse ears of a face-painting.
